SNOW FENCES ARE GOING UP; SNOW NEARBY

The first snowflakes of this fall fell in the mountains of northern and western Adams County early this morning bringing to an end a heavy rainfall that had extended through most of Sunday.

There was snow this morning on the Sunshine Trail beyond Adams County's borders, northern York County had a half inch of snow and north of Carlisle on Sterrett's Gap state Highway Department plows were called out by a four-inch snowfall this morning. Harrisburg also had snow.

State Highway Department workmen continued today the task they began a week ago and must have finished by next Monday — the erecting of 105,000 feet of snow fences in all sections of this county. There are 9,000 feet of new fence being used this fall to replace an equal amount of worn-out fence taken down in the spring.

36.5 Inches Last Winter
Sunday's rain totaled 1.48 inches and was the heaviest in any 24-hour period here since mid-September. It wiped out the October rainfall shortage here.

Temperatures stayed on the chilly side over the weekend. Sunday's high reading was only 42 degrees and the mercury dropped overnight to 36 degrees while snow fell nearby.

Last winter Gettysburg received a total of 36.5 inches of snow, making it the snowiest winter here in 16 years. No measurable snow fell here last November but in other years the month has seen as much as 10 inches of the white stuff.

Close Conn. Schools

Snow, rain and strong winds dampened and chilled sections of the Northeast today as cool air spread across broad areas in the Eastern third of the country, the Associated Press said.

The snowfall was confined mostly to higher elevations in central and northeast Pennsylvania and southeast New York state. The rain belt extended from the lower Great Lakes region and upper Ohio Valley eastward into most of the mid and north Atlantic coastal area.

At Litchfield, Conn., public schools were ordered closed today as the first heavy snow and sleet storm of the season struck the town in the foothills of the Berkshire Mountains. About one inch of snow fell.

Rainfall in most of the Eastern states was light except for a few spots in eastern Pennsylvania. More than 2 inches of rain doused Harrisburg in 24 hours. Moderate to heavy snow fell from the Altoona, Pa., area northward into the Elmira-Binghamton, N. Y., region.

Three Treated At Warner Hospital

Miss Pearl M. Shultz, 24, Orrtanna R.R. 1, was treated at the Warner Hospital over the weekend for a laceration of the right index finger sustained while sawing wood.

Betty L. Smith, 11, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Smith, Emmitsburg, received treatment for a fracture of the left arm suffered last Thursday when she fell backwards at Mother Seton School, Emmitsburg.

Jack Gunn, 20, Mt. St. Mary's College student, was treated for contusions of the chest received while playing soccer.

Balloting In Adams County Was Bloody Affair In 1749 According To Old History

Although, for the candidates and many of the party workers, Tuesday's election may be a heated battle, it will be a peaceful event compared to elections of 200 years ago.

In 1749, when Adams County was a part of York County, elections were prone to be a bit more heated, in fact, bloody. An account of the first election in October of 1749 appear in the "History of York County" by W. C. Carter and A. J. Glossbrenner.

"The candidates for the office of sheriff," the history recounts, "at the first election held in York County, were Hans Hamilton and Richard McAllister. At that time, and at the elections for some years following, all the voters assembled at York, as there were no election districts as at present."

That election was held at a house occupied by Samuel Spangler and used as a public inn. This is how the history describes the scene:

Decision Friday By Library Board

Directors of the Adams County Free Library Association have received notice of their regular November meeting to be held Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the main library on E. High St. Directors are urged to be present for the vote to be taken on the establishment of a music department at the library.

A special committee report in September had recommended the establishment of the new department as a field of service "into which the library could legitimately enter." The November meeting was set then as the time for a final decision.

The meeting notices to the board also announce a change in date for the annual meeting of the library association from January 15 to January 22.

OCTOBER HAS BAD RECORD ON ACCIDENTS

Twenty persons were killed or Adams County highways during the first ten months of 1958, the report of the local state police shows.

The number is two more than were killed up to the same time a year ago, and one more than the number fatally injured during the entire year 1956.

Last year, during the entire twelve months, 23 were killed and 312 injured in 362 auto accidents. So far this year there have been 20 killed and 224 injured in 280 crashes. During the first ten months of 1957 there were 18 killed and 223 injured in 296 accidents.

Carelessness Biggest Killer
November and December traditionally are "bad months" as far as accidents are concerned. Longer nights, bad weather, and holidays contribute to upping the accident rate during those two months.

State police took occasion, in giving the recapitulation of their October activities, to note that "carelessness on the highways" has been responsible for most of the deaths this year.

Of the four persons fatally injured in three accidents last month, all deaths were caused by failure to follow faithfully highway regulations. Police said one of the deaths was caused by excessive speed, one by a car driving on the wrong side of the road and two by failure to yield the right of way.

October's Record Bad
October's accident record was one of the worst in recent months and exceeded both October a year ago and the September.

Children's Book Week Is Observed

Special displays have been placed at the Adams County Free Library in observance of the 40th annual national Children's Book Week which opened Sunday.

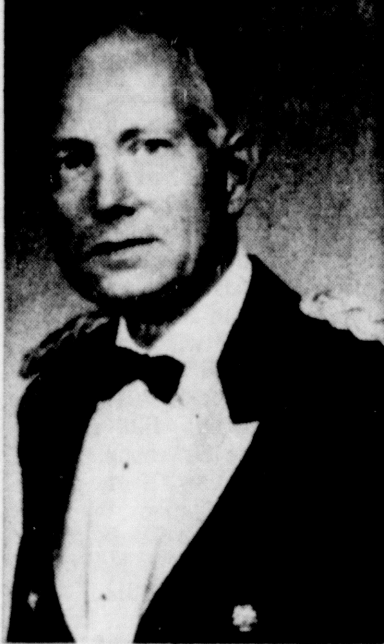

Five hundred children's book-marks are being distributed through the county library and numerous children's books have been placed on display in addition to posters and mobile displays on the week's observance. Children's Book Week dates from 1919 when it was originated by Franklin K. Mathews, chief librarian for the Boy Scouts in America.

The library also is keeping on display this week an oil painting by Ingolf J. Qualy, head of the art department at Gettysburg College. It depicts a group of children gathered about a figure that is topped by a pumpkin head.

ARMY BAND ORGANIZED BY ITS DIRECTOR

Major Chester E. Whiting, who will lead the U. S. Army Field Band of Washington, D. C., in a concert in the Gettysburg High School Auditorium Thursday evening at 8 o'clock under sponsorship of the local high school Band Boosters, is organizer of the band which came into existence in 1946 and has been its conductor ever since.

There is no admission charge to the concert but a collection will be taken during intermission.

MAJOR WHITING

A former director of instrumental music in the schools of Malden, Mass., and a graduate of the New England Conservatory of Music in Boston, Major Whiting organized and conducted Army bands for 35 years.

He organized and conducted the 110th Cavalry Band of the Massachusetts National Guard in 1923. The last mounted band in the Army, it was called into federal service before the country entered World War II and redesignated the 186th Field Artillery Band.

Band Is Reorganized
After the Battle of Guadalcanal the band was reorganized into

"PARC" MAILS 1,000 LETTERS IN CAMPAIGN

The Adams County Chapter of the Pennsylvania Association for Retarded Children has sent out 1,000 letters in the first membership campaign conducted by the local group.

Memberships "start at $2." was the way Mrs. Mary S. Longanecker, president of the Adams County chapter, put it. The first two memberships were for $25 and $5.

Dues and contributions may be mailed to the Adams County Chapter, PARC, Box 83, Gettysburg, and any who wish to donate are asked to send in contributions whether they have been sent a letter or not.

The money raised through the campaign will be used 70 per cent locally, with the other 30 per cent going to the state and national organization to help in research into retardation which "occurs without regard to geography, race or economic status. More than 120,000 children born this year will be mentally retarded — three out of every hundred children in the nation are retarded. More than 70 diseases can cause retardation."

Mrs. Longanecker said that "retarded children range from those who need only a little help to those who must have almost constant care. When you give to aid retarded children you support both research and services."

Much of the money locally will go toward aiding the children at the Day Care Training Center in the former High St. school building. Meetings of the chapter are held at 7:30 p.m. the last Tuesday of each month at the Day Care Training Center and all are invited to attend.

INJURED IN CRASH

Lawrence J. Myers, 23, Abbotstown R. 1, suffered a bruised left shoulder in an auto accident in Hanover Sunday morning at 2:15 o'clock. Myers was one of three passengers in a car driven by Carole Ann Keller, 20, Hanover, which sideswiped a parked car, ran over two lawns and came to halt in a vacant lot. The driver was charged with reckless driving. Damages to the auto and lawns totaled $1,630.

WGET Announces Special Election Returns Tuesday

Adams Countians are assured the most complete and comprehensive reporting of up-to-the-minute election returns Tuesday night as radio station WGET and The Gettysburg Times join to provide fast coverage of local, state and national contests.

Beginning at 8:30 p.m., WGET will report frequently on the progress of the election. Three members of the political science department at Gettysburg College will join to provide comment and analyses of the returns.

State and national returns will be broadcast as received over the wires of the Associated Press, which, this year, has set up its most elaborate system for collecting, compiling and dispatching election news.

Special arrangements have also been made to have frequent reports on the congressional race in the 19th District, which includes Adams, Cumberland and York counties.

County returns and reports on the school merger question, being voted on in six Upper Adams districts, will be collected by the staffs of The Times and WGET and will be broadcast frequently. WGET will stay on the air through out the night and into the morning hours, until decisions of the electors have been established as definite.

Dr. Chester Jarvis, professor of political science at the college, will provide the commentary, assisted by Joseph B. Hampton and Arthur B. Boenau, of the political science faculty.

GIRL, 3, DIES OF FRACTURED SKULL SUNDAY

Three-year-old Michele Ann Crawford, who suffered a fractured skull and broken left leg Friday evening when struck by a car in McSherrystown, died Sunday night at 8:40 o'clock at the Hanover Hospital following an emergency operation.

Dr. Thomas M. Hart, York County coroner, said physicians had decided upon the emergency operation in a vain attempt to save the child's life. He added that since the accident occurred in Adams County any further action will be up to Adams County authorities.

The girl, a daughter of James B. and Doris L. (Small) Crawford, 10 Fulton St., Hanover, was struck Friday night, according to McSherrystown Police Chief Marnard Masener, by a car driven by Ralph E. DeWees, 48, of 418 Ridge Ave., McSherrystown. Chief Masener said the child was accompanying her mother at the time of the accident, but darted across the street to join her sister at the family car.

Survivors include the parents; a brother, James B. Crawford, Jr.; a sister, Susan E. Crawford, at home; the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Kieran Small, 163 Second St., McSherrystown; the paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John E. Crawford, Hanover, and the paternal great-grandmother, Mrs. Ida Crawford, Hanover.

Funeral services on Wednesday morning with meeting at the Wetzel Funeral Home, Hanover, at 8:30 o'clock to go to St. Joseph's Catholic Church, Hanover, for a Mass of the Angels at 9 o'clock with the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Charles E. Park officiating. Interment in Annunciation of the Blessed Virgin Cemetery, McSherrystown. Friends may call Tuesday evening after 7 o'clock at the funeral home in Hanover.

REPORTS ACCIDENT

Robert Staley, W. Middle St., reported to borough police that two boys in a two-tone 1954 Mercury sedan struck his car parked in front of his home Saturday evening around 6:30 o'clock. Staley described the car as having a light green body and a cream top and told officers the first two numbers on the license plate were "F-86." He said the driver looked to be about "21 or 22."

FROSH IN SOCCER TIE

The Gettysburg College freshman soccer team battled to a 2-2 tie with Perkiomen on the latter's field Saturday. The yearlings, 2-0-1, meet the Navy Plebes at Annapolis Wednesday in their final game.

Cubans Balloting Under Death Threat; Alert Army

By LARRY ALLEN
HAVANA, Cuba (AP)—Cubans risked rebel threats of being shot as they voted today for a new president and congress.

Balloting was light in the first few hours after the polls opened at 8 a.m. but voting in Cuban elections usually does not really get under way until afternoon.

A cry of fraud came from rebel leader Fidel Castro even before the first ballot was cast. The rebels, who have warned Cubans to boycott the election at the risk of being slain, charged in a broadcast the results have already been prepared in army barracks. President Fulgencio Batista has always had the backing of the Cuban army.

Army Altered

The voting took place under the shadow of guns. The nation's 34,000-strong armed forces were mobilized, held in barracks but ready to move quickly into the event of a rebel uprising.

Maryland Hunters Pay $50 Fines Here

Four Maryland hunters Saturday afternoon paid fines of $50 and costs each on charges of hunting in Adams County without non-resident hunters' licenses.

Brought before Justice of the Peace John Whitman, Cumberland Twp., by Game Protector Paul H. Glenny, the four entered pleas of guilty and paid the fines rather than take sentences of 59 days in jail.

The four were Arthur Florent Poulson Jr., Laurel, Md.; Robert Eugene Fox and his brother, Danny Lee Fox, and Joseph Raymond Miko, all of Baltimore. The four were spotted by Glenny and an assistant game protector who were on patrol in Germany Twp. near the Mt. Joy Twp. line.

PROJECTS FOR XMAS PLANNED BY LOCAL S. S.

Plans for Christmas projects and activities for the Presbyterian Church School here were made Sunday evening at the first fall meeting of the officers and teachers of the school held at the home of Miss Ruth McIlhenney, W. Lincoln Ave., superintendent Richard Bruce presided.

Each department from the pre-nursery through Junior High was voted up to $10 each for Christmas projects by the school. The offer of the Senior Westminster Fellowship to decorate the various department of the school for Christmas was accepted.

The group directed that a letter be sent to the church's building and renovation committee urging early action to provide more space for overcrowded departments in the Church School, pointing out that space has become an increasingly acute problem for the school through the last five years or more.

Plan For Harvest Home

Department heads reported a need for additional teachers and substitutes in the Primary, Junior and Junior High Departments. Plans for the school's participation in the Harvest Home Sunday program were also discussed.

Mrs. John O'Brien of the Kindergarten Department and Hugh C. McIlhenney, school secretary, reported on Prebrytery Day sessions they attended recently at Harrisburg. Treasurer Melvin Sargent presented his report.

Refreshments were served after the business meeting. The next meeting will be held January 25.

JAILED FOR 30 DAYS

Kevin V. O'Neal, Long Island N. Y., was arrested Saturday night on a vagrancy charge and was jailed for 30 days after a hearing before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder.

COUPLE WED IN LOCAL CHURCH 2 P. M. SUNDAY

The marriage of Miss Johneta Carol Murray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Murray, 133 W. Middle St., and Cpl. Richard Lynn Stouch, foster son of Mr. and Mrs. Harmon Furney, Gettysburg R. 1, was solemnized Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Methodist Church. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. William E. Fenstermaker, pastor.

The church was decorated with white mums and sprays of palms. The soloist, Jere Taughnbaugh, sang "I Love You Truly" and "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied by Charles Stein at the organ, who also played "The Wedding Prayer," "Ave Maria," "O Perfect Love," "O, Promise Me," "Ich Liebe Dich," and "Intermezzo."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of Chantilly lace over silk illusion with a scalloped V-neckline embroidered with sequins, fitted bodice, long tapered sleeves ending in points over the wrists, and a bouffant floor length skirt. Her fingertip silk illusion veil was attached to a coronet of pearls.

PLAN WELFARE TALKS NOV. 12

Six commissioners from Pennsylvania's newly formed Department of Public Welfare will participate with Secretary Harry Shapiro and several out-of-state public welfare authorities in an institute to be conducted by the Pennsylvania Citizens Association at the Scottish Rite Cathedral in Harrisburg on November 12. A. W. Geigley, PCA board member, announced today. This one-day state-wide institute will be the third in a series offered this year by the Pennsylvania Citizens Association to acquaint the public with health and welfare problems and services.

Public welfare administrators from Maryland and Minnesota will be at the morning sessions, starting at 10:15 o'clock. State Welfare Director Thomas J. Waxter of Maryland and State Welfare Director Thomas J. Waxter of Maryland and State Welfare Commissioner of Minnesota Morris Hursh will describe the efforts their states have made to solve the problems of juvenile delinquency, the care of the mentally ill and other health and social welfare problems.

Secretary Shapiro will be the luncheon speaker and PCA's annual award for outstanding citizen service for health and welfare will be presented at that time.

Upsets Auto On Way To Grid Game

A York girl suffered a leg laceration and several Gettysburg College students escaped injury when the car in which they were riding enroute to Easton Saturday for the Gettysburg-Lafayette game turned over on its top after going out of control about 10 miles south of Hamburg.

Reports gave the driver's name as Roland L. Kurtz, a Gettysburg student and member of the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity. He is reported to have been attempting to pass another car when the accident occurred. Two other youths and two girls from York, who were said not to be college students here, also were in the car.

All were able to go on to the football game after the accident.

FILES FOR DIVORCE

Samuel E. Bubbs, Carlisle Mounted Route, has filed suit for divorce in Carlisle from Lois Jean Bubbs, Bendersville. Indignities are charged.

Find Wreckage Of Lost Plane

THE HAGUE, Netherlands (AP)—Wreckage and remains of the victims of a U. S. Air Force C47 which crashed in 1945 in a mystery valley known as Shangri-La have been found in Dutch New Guinea.

The discovery was announced today by the Ministry for Overseas Territories. A patrol exploring the Balieum Valley came across the wreckage.

Hollandia was occupied by American forces in 1945 and regular training flights were made over the valley to study the terrain of central New Guinea.

War correspondents nicknamed the mystery valley Shangri-La.

17 PHOTOS BY LOCAL MEN ARE HUNG IN SALON

Maurice M. Stoops, Buford Ave., won a first place in the Cumberland Valley Photographic Salon's 27th annual exhibition at the Washington County Museum of Fine Arts, Hagerstown, which opened Sunday and will continue through November 28.

Gettysburg photographers have had a total of 15 prints and two slides admitted among a total of 55 prints and 54 slides accepted for the show.

Stoops was but one of a number of local men who won awards in the exhibition. His "After Office Hours" won the first prize in black and white pictorial prints. His "Still Life" won honorable mention in that division. David M. Planker won second prize in the same division with "Junction." Third place in the pictorial division went to David Garfinkle on a print entitled "Ear." Edward N. Stine won honorable mention with "Fisherman."

Other Honors

Garfinkle also won an honorable mention with a portrait entitled "Carol" in the portrait division of the show.

Gettysburgians who had prints accepted for the portrait division were Garfinkle, with two; Joseph Kendlehart, Paul G. Pensinger and Maurice Stoops, each one. Five of the 17 portraits accepted were by Gettysburg men.

In the pictorial division Garfinkle had two prints; Kendlehart, one; Pensinger, one; Planker, one; Stine, two, and Stoops, three, for a total of ten out of the 18 accepted. Kendlehart had two of his color slides "Nature's Geometry" and "Storm in the Mountains" accepted among 54 colored slides accepted for the show.

Historians Will Meet On Tuesday

Miss Margaret McMillan, Lincoln Square, will be the speaker Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the November meeting of the Adams County Historical Society to be held at the court house. Her topic will be "An Early Commercial Orchard in Adams County" and there will be a general discussion of the early days of commercial fruit growing in the county. Anyone interested is invited to attend.

President J. M. Sheads will preside at the meeting.

Ancient, Colorful Pageantry Of Catholic Church Will Be Used In Coronation Service

VATICAN CITY (AP)—The vast basilica of St. Peter's glittered with brilliant light today in preparation for the coronation of Pope John XXIII.

From around the free world, high dignitaries converged on Rome for the spectacular ceremony Tuesday morning—the feast day of St. Charles Borromeo, a favorite saint of the new pontiff. The ceremony will parade all the medieval pageantry of the Roman Catholic Church.

A procession of representatives of all the ancient orders of the church will escort the new pontiff in majestic splendor to the main doors of the basilica.

Long Cardinal Rite

Once the pontiff passes through the door, borne on his portable throne by scarlet-clad bearers, the crowd's view of the ceremonies will be cut off.

Inside the foyer, the Pope will walk up five red-covered steps to a throne.

Foreign dignitaries will watch from a platform 20 feet to the pontiff's right, while the 51 cardinals present for the coronation go through the long rite of doing reverence to their sovereign.

The Pope will mount the portable throne again to be carried into

TWO HURT AND $1,300 DAMAGE IN 3 CRASHES

Two persons were hurt and damage totaled $1,300 in three auto accidents investigated over the weekend by state police from the local sub-station.

Walter Eugene Miller, 34, Westminster, was held at the Hanover Hospital for observation after he lost control of his car and it rolled over off the highway 3.8 miles south of Hanover on Route 94 at a curve Sunday morning at 12:35 o'clock. Miller was removed to the hospital in the Pleasant Hill Fire Co. ambulance. Damage to Miller's car was estimated at $1,000.

Mrs. Margaret Young, 20, Hanover, was held at the Hanover Hospital for observation following an accident at 10:58 o'clock Sunday night in Midway.

Accident on Rt. 30

Police said Mrs. Young was a passenger in a car operated by Kenneth Young, 24, Hanover, which was headed west on the Hanover-Gettysburg Rd. in Midway and sought to make a left turn into an alley. Police said another westbound auto, operated by William Harmon, 18, of 213 Centre St., McSherrystown, crashed into the rear of the Young auto. Damage was estimated at $100 to each vehicle.

No one was injured when a car operated west on the Lincoln Highway two miles east of here Saturday afternoon at 2:45 o'clock by Doris J. Hartlaub, 24, Gettysburg R. 5, struck the rear of another westbound auto operated by Clifton Eldridge, 70, Silver Spring, Md. Damage was said by police to be $75 to the Hartlaub auto and $25 to Eldridge's vehicle.

PREPARE TO HANDLE VOTE RETURNS HERE

The Adams County commissioners today arranged for a special telephone to be placed in the Cumberland Twp. No. 1 voting place near the jail in order to help expedite the transfer of persons who may get to the wrong Cumberland Twp. voting place.

Similar arrangements have been made for telephonic communication between the two voting places in Conewago Twp.

The decision to install phones was made after the commissioners received a dozen phone calls from persons who did not vote in the primary and have just become aware that both Conewago and Cumberland Twps. have been divided into halves for voting purposes.

Give Dividing Lines

The commissioners reminded that Cumberland Twp. is now divided into two districts by Route 116 — the Gettysburg-Fairfield Rd. Everyone living north of the Fairfield Rd. (including the north side of the road) will vote in Cumberland No. 1, in the election house near the jail.

All those living south of the Fairfield Rd. (including the south side of it) will vote in Cumberland No. 2, with the voting place located at the Barlow Fire Hall.

Pray At Chapel

On the way to the central altar the Pope will stop to pray at the chapel of the Holy Sacrament on the right side of the basilica. He will be carried then to the chapel of St. Gregory, on the left side of the basilica, where he will be clothed in the brilliant vestments of the coronation.

FIND BODY OF MISSING BOY

POMPTON LAKES, N.J. (AP)—The body of 7-year-old Paul Grochowicz has been found in the Ramapo River, ending an 18-day search involving thousands of persons.

William Horvey of Jackson Heights, N.Y., found the body Sunday as he was walking along the river bank in a cold, drizzling rain. It was only 500 feet from the Grochowicz home.

Apparently the youngster fell in and drowned not long after he told his mother he was going to bicycle all the way to Tacoma, Wash., to see his grandmother, whom he greatly missed.

That was Oct. 16 and it touched off a mammoth search.

The Grochowicz family moved here only two months ago and Paul was disappointed that his grandparents were not coming east for Christmas.

His grandmother said in Tacoma that the Grochowicz family planned to return there for the funeral.

"This is where Paul wanted to be and this is where the family plans to make its permanent home," she said.

ARMY BAND

The American Division Band and later took part in operations on other islands. Major Whitting served almost three years in the South Pacific and was awarded the Legion of Merit and Bronze Star Medal.

In the fall of 1944 he was assigned to organize the First Combat Infantry Band, made up of men who had served as combat infantrymen. Men from this outfit formed the nucleus for the U.S. Ground Forces Band which the major organized in 1946 and which became the U.S. Army Field Band in April 1950. The band played at the first Battle Anniversary program held here by the Gettysburg Fire Department. It presented a concert at the Memorial Service and played in the annual parade here.

turboprop airliner Saturday night in which 17 persons were killed. One of the three survivors said four rebel gunmen commandeered the plane on the flight from Miami, telling the pilot, "This will be in all the newspapers of the world."

Castro's rebels threatened to shoot any of the 10,000 candidates on sight and warned all who voted that they also risked their lives.

They have killed five candidates, including four running for Congress. They have attacked polling places, destroyed registrations and warned that the election would be bloody in all six provinces.

DIES SUDDENLY

3RD MOON SHOT COMING SOON

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States will launch its third Air Force lunar probe within a week or so, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced today.

The official announcement was coupled with a formal estimate that the third effort has "one in 25" chances of reaching the vicinity of the moon.

NASA declined to say on the record when the third moon shot will be attempted. Standard reference books that set forth the phases of the moon and the times of the year when it is relatively nearer the earth indicate the best time to shoot for the moon would come up in the period of three or four days starting Nov. 7.

At a news conference, Dr. Hugh L. Dryden, deputy administrator of the NASA, cautioned against any great optimism about the shoot.

"If we are very fortunate, we may achieve trajectory and velocity control sufficient to position the probe in the vicinity of the moon," he said.

First November Mishap Saturday

November's first accident in the borough occurred Saturday afternoon at 4:10 o'clock when a Mercury sedan driven west on Chambersburg St. by Mary M. Gross, 41, McSherrytown, crashed into the rear of a halted vehicle operated by Patricia M. Kranias, 30, of 104 Johns Ave., at the intersection with Washington St., police reported today.

Police said Mrs. Kranias had stopped for a red traffic light when Mrs. Gross approached from behind as the light turned green, and according to the accident report, "Gross thought the other vehicle would move, but she did not have time to stop and crashed into the Kranias station wagon."

Police estimated $60 damage to the Gross auto and $75 to the Kranias vehicle.

DEATH

Charge British Give Israel Jets

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—An official Egyptian source charged today that Britain has supplied to Israel an undisclosed number of jet bombers.

His assertion came as the Egyptian press and officials continued to warn of an impending Israeli attack on Jordan. Egyptian leaders appear genuinely fearful, and not just spreading propaganda. They insist, however, they are ready to meet any attack.

Lack of bombers was one of the biggest deficiencies of the Israeli air force during the 1956 Suez campaign. The United Arab Republic is well supplied with Soviet-built jet bombers.

Girl Scout News

Girl Scout Troop 44 of St. James Lutheran Church Saturday morning toured the Mount Alto State Forestry School, Prof. Robert Seewald lectured as he guided the troop through the school's laboratories, nursery and sawmill. The girls, who made the trip as part of their tree badge work, were told how experimenting on seeds is done, how long it takes for different types of trees to grow, how to treat "wounded" trees, and how to tell the age of trees. Refreshments were served.

Those who accompanied the troop were Dr. Clarence Bartholomew, Mrs. Harold Bucher, Mrs. John Caldwell, Mrs. Walter Johnson, and Mrs. Arthur Phil. They returned to Gettysburg Saturday noon.

Brownie Troop 62 held an investiture service and birthday party Friday afternoon in St. James Lutheran Church for Susan Redding, Robin Burns, Cynthia Currens and Carolyn Walborn. Mrs. Harold Blanchard narrated the Brownie Story, which was done in pantomime by Kathy Fohl, Ann Reinberger, Tammy Foth, Trudy Timmons and Corrine Bender. The Women of the Moose, sponsors of the troop, donated the birthday cake for the 22 members. The refreshments were served by troop committee women. Mrs. Glenn Keller, troop counselor, led the singing. Leaders present were Mrs. Harold Blanchard and Mrs. Louis Brady.

DR. D. L. RADSMAN IS SPEAKER AT ST. JOHN'S

The annual Thank offering service was held in St. John's Lutheran Church on Sunday morning, arranged by the United Lutheran Church Women. Dr. D. L. Radsmann, a native of Indonesia, who trained in Holland at the University of Amsterdam, and who is now living in Gettysburg where he is assistant surgeon at the Warner Hospital, delivered the thank-offering address. Dr. Radsmann worked in Central Sumatra, 300 miles from civilization where he managed a 75-bed hospital, and discussed the religious life there. He had a display of art objects arranged.

Mrs. Preston Myers, Mrs. James L. Rhoades, Mrs. George Trump and Mrs. Robert V. Weaver served as ushers. The loss offering received will be used to further the work of the United Lutheran Church Women. Mrs. Alvin J. Graft, committee member of the education division of the West Pennsylvania Conference of ULCW of the Central Pennsylvania Synod, spoke briefly on attending a recent international conference in Canada.

Members of St. John's United Lutheran Church Women are asked to return to their annual Thank offering boxes at the meeting on Tuesday, 7:30 p.m. at the church. Mrs. Harry W. Badders is the November leader. The hostesses will be Mrs. Edgar A. Wolfe and Mrs. Ralph Wantz.

Church Council To Meet
St. John's Church Council will hold its monthly session at the church tomorrow at 7:30 p.m.

Wednesday is the deadline to make reservations for attending St. John's annual father and son banquet on Monday, November 10, 6:30 p.m. in the church social hall. Tickets may be secured from Malcolm E. Hess, Wilson P. Greene or Harry O. Harner.

Youth Sunday will be observed in St. John's Church at the worship service on November 9, 10:15 a.m., as announced by the pastor, the Rev. William C. Karns. Members of the Luther League will participate in the service. Brotherhood Sunday will be noted on November 23.

Christ Church News

"Trust Thou in the Lord Jehovah" was the anthem sung by the choir of Christ United Church of Christ at the worship service on Sunday morning. The sermon was delivered by the pastor, the Rev. G. Howard Koons. Clair E. Arntz, Bernard L. Warner, Lynville G. Seabrook and Theodore L. Bair served as ushers. The bulletins and altar flowers were given by Mr. and Mrs. Lee E. Palmer and family in memory of their son and brother, Richard M. Palmer. The treasurer of the building fund, Roy A. Sterner, reported that during October the following money was received into the fund: $3,582.05, Rally Day offering; $464.07, regular building fund offering; $4,046.12, total. The last quarterly repair fund envelopes are due at the worship next Sunday, and the trustees have set the goal at $150. Mrs. Mary E. Zipp was received into the church membership.

Christ Church choir will rehearse on Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

The Consistory will meet for the November session at 7:30 p.m., Wednesday, at the church. The annual consistorial conference of this area will be held in the Spring Grove fire hall on Thursday at 6:45 p.m. A turkey banquet will be served and a program will follow.

Mrs. Ralph I. Unger will be leader for the topic discussion at the monthly meeting of the Women's Guild on Wednesday, 7:30 p.m., at the church.

The King's Daughters Class of Christ Church will hold a food sale on Friday, November 14, 4 p.m. in the Alpha fire hall. Pies, cakes, soups, potato and macaroni salad, candy, etc., will be sold. The committee in charge of arrangements includes Mrs. Harry C. Wildasin, Mrs. Erwin A. Rebert and Mrs. Kenneth W. Olinger.

The property was sold by the Littlestown National Bank as guardian of the estate of Beatrice I. Long. J. Arthur Boyd was the auctioneer and Swope, Brown and MacPhail, the attorneys.

First American woman surgeon was Clemence Harned Lozier of New York. Born during the War of 1812, she was 40 when she got her medical degree.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

2 Coeds Hurt In Crash On Friday

Two Gettysburg College coeds were injured early Friday night in a two-car collision on Route 15 at Dillsburg.

Miss Virginia Tepp, 19, Valley Stream, N. Y., one of the drivers, was treated at Carlisle Hospital for chest and knee injuries. A passenger, Miss Lynda Leonard, 19, was admitted with a head injury.

State police of the Harrisburg substation reported Miss Tepp had overtaken a car operated by Jesse R. Tracey, Dillsburg R. 1. As she was passing, Tracey attempted a left turn and the two vehicles collided. Tracey escaped injury. Damage to the cars was placed at $775.

8 PROPERTIES CHANGE HANDS

The following deeds were filed in the office of the register and recorder today:

P. A. and S. Small Co., York, sold to L. M. Realty Co., York, a property in Germany Twp. for $9,250.

George E. and Alice J. Gochnaur, Butler Twp., sold to Richard A. and Sharlie R. Shreve, Menallen Twp., a property in Butler Twp. for $230.

H. Elmer and Mary V. Snyder, Gettysburg, sold to Basil B. and Norah J. Benson, Cumberland Twp., a property on Sunset Ave. for $20,000.

Dennis and Margie V. Dolly, Hamilton Ban Twp., sold to R. Thomas Dolly, Hamiltonban Twp., 275 acres in Hamiltonban Twp. for $1. The market value is $17,500.

Eileen Topper, McSherrystown, sold to Theron J. and Elsie E. Neiderer, McSherrystown, a property in McSherrystown for $8,500. The Littlestown State Bank sold to Robert K. and Jeanne H. Reisinger, Mt. Joy Twp., 17 acres in Germany Twp. for $16,000.

Clair F. and Marie R. Ditzler, Huntingdon Twp., sold to Donald B. and Martha K. Hudson, Biglerville, a property in Biglerville for $2,160.

C. W. and Mildred L. Altland, Paradise Twp., York County, sold to S. P. and Myrtle M. Mehrling, Penn Twp., York County, property in Oxford Twp. for $6,000.

PREPARE TO

Telephone service is available there.

The township is divided just about equally with 630 voters, 382 Republicans and 231 Democrats, in Cumberland No. 1 and 677 voters, 422 Republicans and 248 Democrats, registered in Cumberland No. 2.

In Conewago Twp. the dividing line between No. 1 and No. 2 is listed as: "Starting at Route T470 south to Rt. 01034, west to Route A5510, south along Route A5510 to McSherrystown borough, then west along the borough line to Plum Creek and then south along the left branch of Plum Creek to the York County line." The 723 voters residing east of that line will be in Conewago No. 1 and will vote at the Midway Fire House. All those west of the line will be in Conewago No. 2 and will vote at the Brunsdown Fire Hall.

Plan Returns Board

One other change has been made in voting places. In Heidlersburg, the Tyrone No. 1 voting place has been moved to the hall on the southeast corner of the square.

In line with preparations for the election, the commissioners are setting up their office to alleviate congestion and still make information on the balloting available to the general public.

A large board has been placed along the wall of the commissioners' office, high enough for all to see, on which will be placed the returns as they are brought into the office.

With WGET's staff for broadcasting, news reporters and election officials taking up the space in the commissioners' front office and the general public seeking returns jamming the hallway between the commissioners and treasurer's office, the election boards returning with results to the court house will be led to the county agent's office and then into the commissioners' vault from an entrance into the county agent's office. In that way the returns can be handed in and checked and the treasurer will be able to pay the election boards in the privacy of the vault without being jostled by those watching the returns. A TV set will also be installed in the commissioners' office for state returns.

Balloting In

to offer his vote, went determinedly to the place of voting, and tripped up the heels of one of the Irish guards. An affray immediately commenced, and in less than five minutes the action was general.

"Furor administrat arma. "A large quantity of saplings near the house were soon torn end cut from the ground to be used as weapons of offence and defence. Blows were dealt with an unsparing hand; each party giving hot battle.

"But victory at length perched upon the banner of the 'Dutch party,' for the friends of McAlister not only discomfited the Irish, but completely routed their whole forces, and put them to flight. They drove them all beyond the Codorus; and not a member of the defeated party was to be found east of the creek during the remainder of that day.

Honour Saved

"There were a few limbs broken, and considerable blood shed; but, fortunately for the honour of the country, no life was lost in the affray.

"The Germans, keeping possession of the ground, gave in their votes without molestation; where by McAlister had an overwhelming majority.

"But this availed not: for Hamilton was a great favorite of the executive, and was, shortly after the election, commissioned as sheriff of the county of York, and as such he continued until the 10th of October, 1752."

"Not Less Fierce"

The first was not the only bloody election in the county, according to the history, which notes that "the second election . . . was not conducted in a less fierce spirit than the first."

The history quotes from a court record to prove this point. Hans Hamilton was declared entitled "to serve for the ensuing year, or until there shall be a new election."

Hamilton, from the present Adams County area, was "much honored in the early part of our country's history," the history recounts, and says this of him: "He became, several years after he had served two terms as sheriff, one of the Judges of the Court of Common Pleas, and died early in the year 1772, in Menallen township.

"His character as a man of integrity and general worth stood very high. At his decease he left the following children: Thomas (who became sheriff in 1756); Sarah, then married to Alexander McKean; Mary, then married to Hugh McKean; Hans, Guilan, George, John, William and James."

The history reports that "the election for sheriffs in this county is usually a matter of very warm contest." One of the closely contested races occurred in 1789 when Conrad Laub defeated his opponent, William McClellan, 2,130 to 2,111.

Formed Coalition

The history quotes at length an article which appeared in a York newspaper following that election. The article attributes Laub's victory to a "covenant" entered into by friends of these leaders: Henry Schlegel, Jacob Ridsell, Conrad Sherman, Philip Gossier, Henry Miller, John Campbell, John Lukens and Eli Lewis. It was the last of these who founded and gave his name to the York County borough of Lewisberry, the third to be incorporated in that county.

The first lots of the town of Hanover were laid out by McAlister, who, at the time, was considered something of a fool to expect that a town might exist at that location. Hanover was the second borough to be incorporated in the county.

The present Adams County continued as part of York County until 1800 when it was set up with its present borders. It is the 27th of Pennsylvania's 67 counties to be established.

PLAN WELFARE

This award is given by the association to a layman whose personal efforts have substantially influenced state-wide developments in these fields. In the afternoon, there will be a panel discussion on "A New Approach To Public Welfare Administration In Pennsylvania," moderated by Norman V. Lourie, deputy secretary for social welfare. Other participants from the Pennsylvania Department of Public Welfare will be Dr. John E. Davis, commissioner, Office of Mental Health, and deputy secretary; Chauncey Gunderman, acting director of the Bureau of Assistance Services; Elias Cohen, commissioner, Office of Services for the Aging; Helen C. Hubbell, commissioner, Office of Services for Children and Youth; Ira J. Mills, commissioner, Office of General and Special Hospitals; Norman M. Yoder, commissioner, Office of Services to the Blind. Consultants to the panel will be Arthur T. Prasse, commissioner, Pennsylvania Bureau of Correction, and Theodore H. Reiber, member Pennsylvania Board of Parole.

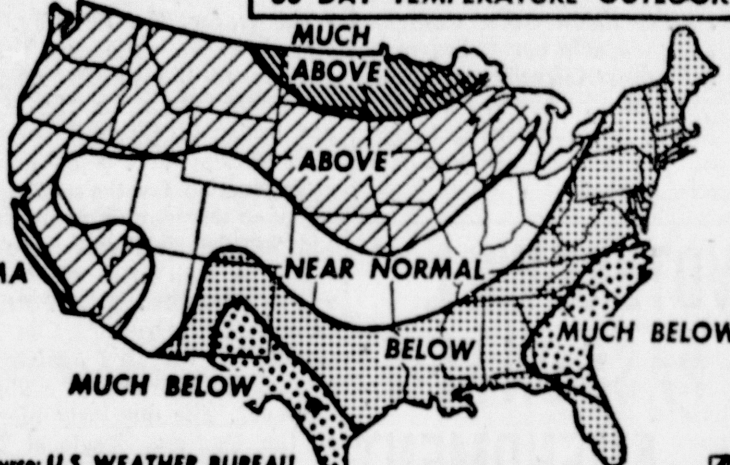

The National Park Service takes care of 792 pieces of property in Washington, D. C. The White House is one of them.

FRANKLIN COUNTY

Richard P. Zimmerman, president of the Valley National Bank, Chambersburg; Jules C. Lavin, of Duralaether Co., Philadelphia, and the Rev. Dr. J. Charles McKirachan, pastor of the Pine Street Presbyterian Church, Harrisburg, were named to the board of trustees of Wilson College.

A $31,174 damage suit was filed in Franklin County court as the result of a collision of two cars with a Pennsylvania Railroad freight train near Mercersburg May 4. Killed in the collision were Floyd L. Dorthy, 20, and D. Melvin Meyers, 17, both of Mercersburg R. 1.

The suit was filed by John W. Dorthy, father of the one crash victim, as administrator of his son's estate. Names as defendants were Harold M. Meyers, father of the other victim and administrator of his estate; the Pennsylvania Railroad, and Robert E. Shaffer, Mercersburg, driver of the second car involved in the collision.

An all-time new record for the number of births in a one-month period was recorded at the Chambersburg Hospital last month when 150 infants were born, surpassing the previous record of 144 established in August 1956.

Reportedly fleeing from a Mont Alto police officer, Oliver B. Shaffer, 38, of Mont Alto, escaped injury when he lost control of his car and it crashed into a utility pole along the Mont Alto-Waynesboro Rd. State police said they were told that at the time the accident occurred Shaffer's speeding car was being pursued by Mont Alto Police Chief Cameron Reed, who had taken up the chase after the Shaffer was alleged to have violated a traffic law in the borough.

YORK COUNTY

Contractors building the Susquehanna Expressway bypass at York have asked state and local police to help break up vandalism by juveniles, which has been damaging their equipment and materials.

A spokesman for one contractor said they expect a certain amount of mischief wherever they operate but that the amount going on around York is far beyond expectations.

He complained about windows being broken in the cabs of rolling equipment and air being let out of tires. In some instances ignition keys left in the automotive equipment have been stolen. At one point where steel has been stored for use in next spring's work, the vandals have been removing the protective paper cover.

The West York School Board rejected an $18,000 bid for the purchase of the vacated William Shelley Elementary School and its annex, offered at public auction. School board members said they would put up the buildings for sale again at a later date.

Felix S. Bentzel, 76, mayor of York from 1948-52, former legislator and a leading figure in York County Democratic politics for 45 years, died Saturday night at his home in York.

He leaves his widow, Mrs. Dorothea Bentzel, and five children. Over the long span of his political career, Bentzel sought the office of mayor four times; won it only once—in the 1947 general election.

His last bid was for the Democratic nomination for mayor in 1955. He was edged out in the primary election by the present Mayor Fred A. Schiding, now ill in York Hospital, following a heart attack a week ago.

Jollification At Bendersville:

On Tuesday evening last there was great celebration at Bendersville in honor of the recent glorious triumph achieved by the People in the recent election. A Torch-light procession was formed and marched through the principal streets of the town, bearing transparencies with appropriate mottoes. Michael Hoffman was appointed Chief Marshal. The procession was brought up in front of the Hotel of Charles Myers, where it was disbanded and the meeting ally addressed by Wm. B. McClellan, Esq., Hon. Edward McPherson and D. A. Buehler, Esq. The whole was concluded with a large bonfire in the centre square. The people of this district are in fine spirits and promise a largely increased majority next fall.

We must not omit to mention the "feast of fat things" gotten up by Mr. Myers into the shape of a Supper hard to beat and to which ample justice was done by all hands.

Today's Talk

NEVER GET SO BUSY

We all make the great mistake of trying to convince ourselves of the fact that we are too busy to have friends and to live. Never get so busy that you will not have time for your friends. They are the best capital that you can have, or ever will have!

I was once a salesman for my own products. I met big men everywhere I went. They always treated me kindly and many became my lifelong friends. Ver few ever said they had no time in which to see me. As a courtesy I always made an appointment in advance, so as not to use time that belonged to someone else.

I have met a few men, however, who seemed so busy and could not see me. Most of those long ago retired from the contest anyway. New ones have taken their place.

I once worked for a great salesman, who ran an advertising agency. I learned more from him about selling than any man I have ever known. He used to take a group of us to a prominent Athletic Club and give us a fine dinner. He would then demonstrate ideas and given expert advice about getting on in the world. He said much that had added to my own success and happiness in business. One thing he said was that sincerity was quickly noted in a person, that prospective buyers discounted a lot of experience and tied to young men who had faith, were sold themselves on a product, and who, after a sale, left a trail of trust behind.

I learned that the big men were rarely too busy to see me. In fact they welcomed bright young men who had ideas. I dare say that many a man I called upon with my wares was as interested as I was in establishing a relationship. I was so enthusiastic about my business that often I amused my prospective client! Several offered me a job on the spot, but after all these many years I have remained my own boss! I never get too busy to talk to my friends — or to strangers. I learn from them.

Let us pluck the roses
That are blooming by the way;
Quickly fade the roses,
And a joy lives but a day.

Like the flowers, your pleasures
Droop and quickly die;
And earth's rarest treasures
Must be gathered when they're nigh.

Do not hurry, brother;
Enjoy life as you go;

GRID BALANCE OF POWER AT TOP SHIFTING

By ED WILKS

Associated Press Sports Writer

The balance of power has been upended in the Big Ten and Southeastern conferences. Notre Dame was just a good team gone wrong. And the boys from Syracuse aren't going to spend the year-end holidays at home.

That's the way things look after the last weekend of college football.

It's been a long, long time since Ohio State, Michigan or Michigan State have failed to stand among the top three in the Big Ten. But that's the way it is at the moment, with Iowa, Northwestern and Purdue on top.

Ohio State Beaten
Northwestern, the season's surprise club, rebounded from its lone loss (to Iowa) and handed Ohio State its first Big Ten defeat in two years, 21-0. That dropped the Buckeyes to a tie for fourth with Wisconsin. The Badger, 9-7, plunking the Spartans to the bottom with Minnesota, both winless in the Big Ten.

Iowa, with only a tie by the Air Force marring its season record, stayed in the running for the national title as well as the Big Ten crown and Rose Bowl shot by smacking Michigan 37-14.

Louisiana State, the nation's No. 1 team in last week's Associated Press poll, bounced previously unbeaten Mississippi 14-0. That kept LSU (7-0) first in the SEC and left the Tigers paired with Rutgers (6-0) as the only major unbeaten, untied teams in the nation.

Irish Clopper Navy

It also sent LSU spinning toward the Sugar Bowl with only bowl-banned Auburn close to the Tigers in the SEC. Auburn, unbeaten but tied, defeated Florida 6-5 and takes on Mississippi State this weekend while LSU plays Duke.

Notre Dame isn't going to a bowl. But the Irish aren't headed for oblivion either. After defeats by Army and Purdue and a tough time against Duke, the Irish clopper Navy 40-20. All of which is no help to Pitt, which faces Notre Dame this weekend after losing 16-13 to Syracuse.

Syracuse now is 5-1 and plays Boston University this weekend.

Army, the other big independent in the East, smashed Colgate as expected, 68-6. It plays Rice this weekend.

W. Va. Tops Hoop

Rice, idle last weekend, is tied for the Southwest Conference lead at 3-0 with Texas Christian.

TCU whipped Baylor 22-0 and takes a breather against Marquette this week. Southern Methodist, also in the picture, beat Texas 26-10 and plays Baylor next. Oklahoma, beaten only by Texas, stretched its Big Eight record by jarring Colorado 23-7. It was the Buffs' first loss.

Clemson, the Atlantic Coast Conference leader at 4-1, beat Wake Forest 14-12 in an unexpected tangle, and plays Georgia Tech of the SEC this weekend.

West Virginia again tops the Southern Conference (3-0) after beating George Washington 35-12.

The Pacific Coast race became snarled when Oregon State knocked off California 14-8 and took first place with a 4-1 record. California is second at 3-1 with Washington State third at 4-2. Washington State, a 38-20 winner over UCLA, plays Oregon State this week while Cal plays UCLA.

Cards Beat Jap
All-Stars In 10th

OSAKA, Japan (AP)—Ken Boyer tied the score with a ninth-inning homer and singled in a run in a 10th inning rally today as the St. Louis Cardinals defeated the Japan All-Stars 6-3 before 50,000 fans at Koshien Stadium.

The Cards, now 6-1 in their 16-game Japanese tour, overcame a three-run deficit with two runs in the seventh and Boyer's solo homer in the ninth.

In the 10th, Don Blasingame and Stan Musial walked. Boyer's single scored Blasingame with the lead run and Joe Cunningham followed with a double, scoring Musial and Boyer.

VOTERS WILL PASS ON NEW AMENDMENT

HARRISBURG (AP) — A proposed amendment to the Pennsylvania Constitution, permitting changes in the tax system for the state's private forest lands, will be voted on Tuesday.

At present, the Constitution requires that all taxes be uniform upon the same class of subjects. The proposed amendment would exempt private forest lands from that provision and permit the General Assembly to change the tax structure for land with growing trees.

The move is designed to encourage owners to let the trees grow to maturity.

The state Department of Forests and Waters and the Pennsylvania Forestry Assn. support the proposal on the grounds, present real estate taxes imposed on private forest land under the uniformity provision of the Constitution encourage marketing of timber before the trees are fully grown. They favor a severance tax to be imposed at the time the trees are cut and marketed.

Some Opposition

Opposition to the proposed amendment came over the weekend from the Armstrong Forest Co., Johnstown, Pa., which operates pulp mills at Johnstown and Lock Haven, Pa., and Williamsport, N. Y.

A. L. Bennett, vice president in charge of operations, said the firm mailed a letter to over 2,500 free recreational users of the company's managed timberlands, asking them to vote against the proposed amendment.

Maurice K. Goddard, secretary of forests and waters, in advocating adoption of the constitutional change, said it was necessary "if we are to encourage private land owners to permit trees on their property to grow to full maturity."

The question on the ballot reads:

Question On Ballot
"Shall section one of Article Nine of the Constitution of Pennsylvania be amended to exempt private forest reserves from the requirement that all taxes be uniform upon the same class of subjects, and to permit the General Assembly, by general laws, to set up standards and qualifications for private forest reserves and make special provision for the taxation thereof?"

Goddard said the real estate tax loss would be comparatively small to local communities. The

3MASSES ARE OFFERED AT ST. ALOYSIUS

Three masses were offered this morning in St. Aloysius Catholic Church on the Feast of All Souls Day, transferred from Sunday to today, one of the two days in the year when a priest may offer three masses. The children's choir sang the 8 o'clock mass, a high mass.

The pastor, the Rev. Fr. William A. Boyle, announced that in addition to the weekly religious instruction class for the junior and senior high school students, each Monday at 7 p.m., a class in instruction for the adults will begin on Monday, November 10, and will be held each week at 8 p.m. A high mass of requiem will be celebrated in St. Patrick's Cathedral, Harrisburg, on November 11, the 23rd anniversary mass of the late Bishop Philip R. McDevitt. The quarterly meeting of the Southern Regional Holy Name Union will be held at St. Mary's of the Immaculate Conception Church, York, next Sunday, with a brief business meeting, and then special devotions in commemoration of the Lourdes Centenary year.

Open House At Convent

Next Sunday, also, from 2 to 4 p.m., there will be open house in the new convent located in the rear of the church hall, and facing on M St. In connection with the open house, the annual donation party for the Sisters of Mercy, who teach in the parochial school, will take place. Members of the congregation may take their contribution of foodstuffs when they visit the convent.

Wednesday and Thursday mass in St. Aloysius Church this week will begin at 7:15 a.m. There will be confessions on Thursday from 2:30 to 3:15 and from 7 to 7:30 p.m. in preparation for the First Friday of the month when devotions are in honor of the Sacred Heart of Jesus and when Communion will be distributed at 5:45 and 7 a.m. The First Friday mass will begin at 8 a.m.

Committees for the weekly Saturday night public party at 8 o'clock in the parish hall are as follows: Arrangements, Thomas French, chairman, David French, Charles Slusser, David Slusser, Earl G. Sanders, Jesse Clapsaddle and Daniel Dietrich; refreshments, Mrs. Albert Shrader, chairman, Mrs. Kenneth Bowman, Mrs. John O'Donnell, Mrs. Donald Staub, Mrs. William Anthony, Mrs. Leo Riley and Miss Jane Rang.

The mass on Tuesday morning will be for the intention of the new pope, Pope John XXIII, and will begin at 8 a.m.

News At Redeemer's

The Rev. Glenn Flinchbaugh, pastor of Redeemer's United Church of Christ, delivered the sermon at the Sunday morning worship service on the subject "What I Like About Our Church." The Senior Choir sang the anthem "The Woods and Every Sweet Smelling Tree." West, accompanied on the organ by Mrs. George average tax rate for wooded land, he said, is about 25 cents an acre. The same amendment appeared on the 1954 ballot but was defeated. Goddard said the defeat then was principally due to a lack of knowledge by the voters of the intent of the amendment.

James
MARLOW
Reports

The Associated Press

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower has suggested there will be a need for another attic-to-cellar exploration of the rambling federal structure, patterned after the two massive Hoover Commission reports of 1949 and 1953.

If a new reorganization commission is created along the lines of the two headed by former President Herbert Hoover, you can bet that something like the Citizens Committee for the Hoover Report also will be revived. The committee, active for years, disbanded last week.

Was Forceful Agency

Although strictly unofficial, voluntary and privately supported,

A. Stonesifer. The pastor offered a prayer for little children and rosebuds were placed on the altar in honor of the newborn sons of Mr. and Mrs. George R. Bittler, near town, and the Rev. and Mrs. Frank E. Reynolds, Reading. The Rev. Mr. Reynolds is a former pastor. The bulletins were given in memory of Mr. and Mrs. Simon E. Henry by their son, Dewey. The altar flowers were placed in memory of Mr. and Mrs. Amos Miller by their children, Mrs. Lloyd L. Staveland and Jenn Miller. It was announced that the Ladies' Aid Society will serve a banquet on Wednesday and helpers are asked to be in the church kitchen at 1 p.m. As a project for the Christmas bazaar on December 5 and 6, the Sunday School class taught by Mrs. William W. Seibert is gathering unseeded candles from the members and friends.

The Consistory will meet on Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in the church. The annual consistorial conference of this area will be held in the Spring Grove fire hall on Thursday at 6:45 p.m.

Redeemer's choir will rehearse on Thursday evening: Cherubs at 6 p.m.; Juniors at 6:30 and Seniors at 7:30 p.m.

Next Sunday, the congregation will be given an opportunity to accept the 1959 church budget and the report of the church nominating committee, a theio:30 a.m. worship service.

Mrs. Harry Weisel, of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, was guest soloist in Redeemer's Sunday School yesterday morning. She was accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Richard A. Little Jr.

YF Party Is Held

The Senior High Youth Fellowship of Redeemer's Church enjoyed a Halloween party for members and their guests held on Saturday evening in the basement of the home of co-member, James Kroh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth K. Kroh, near town. Approximately 40 persons were in attendance. The fall decorations were in keeping with the Halloween theme. A ghost story was told by the pastor, the Rev. Glenn Flinchbaugh, as articles for illustration were passed among the group. There were various kinds of dances to recorded music. Entertainment also included group games and contests with prizes. Refreshments were served. The committee on arrangements included James Kroh, Bernard Weaver, Phyllis Eby and Sandi Hawk. The event was supervised by the adult counselors of the Fellowship: Pastor Flinchbaugh and Mr. and Mrs. Richard A. Little Jr.

the Citizens Committee was to large degree the agency which made the Hoover reports a real force for federal reform instead of just a multi-million-word commentary on the flaws and foibles of government.

The Citizens Committee was a lobby and a pretty successful one. In Washington, bright ideas don't become laws automatically, even if the ideas result from years of work by bipartisan commissions under distinguished leadership. They often are received with polite applause and shelved as soon as nobody is looking.

Backed By Hoover

Hoover knew that. From the outset he gave quiet support to the formation of a pressure group that would start needling, wheedling and goading the office holders and lawmakers as soon as his commission's recommendations were issued in 1949.

In the nine years that followed, the committee has played the gadfly role.

It didn't win all its battles, by any means. The Pentagon still is not really unified. Dozens of civilian bureaus and offices which the commission said should not report directly to the White House still do. Duplicating agencies still compete in costly and far-flung federal activities.

Committee Was Handicapped

In many cases the Citizens Committee was handicapped because the Hoover reports—especially the second one, which delved into questions of federal policy instead of sticking to matters of organization—were weakened by conflicts within the commission and were riddled with dissents.

But the Citizens Committee and its staff sifted, analyzed and selected; drafted proposed bills and presidential reorganization plans; recruited speakers and issued bales of propaganda; enlisted support from civic and business groups across the country; made pests of themselves in government offices and congressional lobbies; and gave pitiless publicity to any actions it considered abuses.

When it closed up shop last Thursday it could take pride in having helped to achieve some major changes, including:

Military Unification Act of 1949 and the Defense Reorganization Act of 1958.

Creation of the 10th federal department—Health, Education and Welfare.

Establishment of a single agency, the General Services Administration, out of four previous agencies which did the government's civilian buying, building and record keeping.

A complete internal reorganization of the State Department.

Adoption of a new business-type system of federal budgeting. Those were highlights; there were many others. Of the 587 recommendations of both Hoover commissions, 396 were adopted by Congress or the executive branch.

MIFFLINBURG, Pa. (AP)—An 8-year-old boy was killed on a nearby Union County farm Saturday when he was run over by a truck.

Harry T. Beck, Union County coroner, said Michael D. Stimmel was killed when he fell under the wheels of a truck being backed into the yard of a farm near Glen Iron by his grandfather, Michael A. Stimmel.

Beck said the boy apparently had tried to jump into the back of the truck.

KASPER TRIAL
BEGINS TODAY

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Some of the people subpoenaed as witnesses for John Kasper in his trial on charges of inciting to riot are hiding out, a deputy criminal court clerk says.

Kasper goes on trial today before Criminal Court Judge Homer Weimar. The charges grew out of demonstrations against desegregation of public schools here last fall.

Deputy Court Clerk John W. Alford said that officers had contacted most of the 225 witnesses subpoenaed by Kasper, but he added, "Some of these people are in hiding, I think. In fact, I know of one man who I'm sure is hiding."

Kasper, the self-styled race agitator, has served a term in federal prison for contempt of Knoxville federal court for his part in demonstrations accompanying school desegregation in Clinton two years ago.

If convicted, the New Jersey native faces a maximum sentence of 11 months, 29 days and a fine of $1,000.

BOY'S PLAY ENDS
IN TRAGEDY

PHOENIXVILLE, Pa. (AP) — A son of former major league catcher Gus Niarhos hanged himself accidentally Sunday night, apparently while playing cowboy alone in his room.

Gregory, 12, was found by his mother when she went to his room because he didn't answer her call to dinner. The boy was hanging by his neck from a crossbar in the clothes closet.

A holster, with a toy pistol in it, was strapped to his side. The coroner ruled the death accidental.

Niarhos, played briefly this past season for the Philadelphia Phillies. He also was a coach in the Phillies farm system.

The couple has another son and two foster sons.

DELIBERATE GRID FUMBLE SPARKS UPSET

HARRISBURG (AP) — A deliberate fumble that sparked an upset had high school football fans in a stew in this area over the weekend.

Bishop McDevitt of Harrisburg used the fumble play Friday in the final quarter while trailing Carlisle 0-12. McDevitt quarterback Larry Bekelja took the ball from center Jim Murphy, then unobtrusively dropped it behind Murphy. Bekelja and the rest of the McDevitt backfield put on a great show of ball handling for the benefit of Carlisle defenders while Murphy quietly picked up the ball and ran—he could have walked—51 yards for a touchdown. Minutes later McDevitt scored on a 31-yard pass play and added the point that defeated favored Carlisle, 13-12.

It took 14 Harrisburg policemen to quiet the mob after the game. Duke Maronic, ex-pro footballer who worked the game as linesman, received a black eye in the melee.

Johnstown Undeclared
In less spectacular fashion, Johnstown defeated traditional rival Altoona, 20-14, to remain undefeated—with Clairton and Farrell—in the WPIAL AA race. West View was soundly eliminated from the race with a 48-13 defeat by Penn Hills.

Bloomsburg edged Jersey Shore 12-7, to remain undefeated—with Lewistown and Danville—in the Susquehanna Conference.

In the game of the week, William Penn of Harrisburg defeated York, 33-20, to remain the only undefeated team (4-0) in the Central Penn Conference. Lancaster (3-2) remained a contender with a 34-24 victory over Reading, as did Williamsport (4-2) with a 34-30 victory over Lebanon. Harrisburg Harris (3-1) defeated non-conference foe Bethlehem, 7-0.

Other conference races shape up like this:

East
Suburban I—Haverford and Ridley Twp., each 6-0, will settle the title this weekend.

Suburban II—Radnor (7-0) has it about sewed up.

Suburban III—Interboro, 6-0, in the conference, leads. It lost to Ridley Twp., 20-14, in an inter-conference game Saturday.

Ches-Mont—A wild one. Conestoga, which lost to Downingtown, 14-6, Saturday; West Chester and Pottstown, lead with 3-1 records.

Bux-Mont—Amble (6-0) has beaten all the leading contenders. East Penn Northern—Pre-season favorite Old Forge and Blakeley have won five, tied each other. Kingston is unbeaten in seven games.

East Penn Southern—Mount Carmel, Shenadoah are 8-0; Shamokin is 5-0. Mount Carmel and Shenadoah play Friday.

Keystone—Shamokin (5-0) and Mount Carmel (3-0) are the leaders here, too. They play Thanksgiving Day.

Wyoming Valley—Kingston (7-0) is on top with runners-up Wilkes-Barre Coughlin (5-1) and Wilkes-Barre Gar (6-1) ahead on its schedule.

Lehigh Valley—Northampton (5-0) and Catasauqua (4-0) will probably settle it on Thanksgiving Day.

Lehigh-Northampton—Hellerstown (5-0) a clear leader, should settle it against Bangor (4-1) Nov. 15.

Roosevelt Trail League—Sayre has won the championship. Northeastern Catholic—None of the leaders—Scranton South Catholic and Kingston Catholic (2-0) in the Northern Division, or new member Lebanon Catholic (2-0) in the Southern Division—are eligible for the title. That leaves Pius X of Rosetto (3-1-1) leading in the North and Shamokin Catholic (3-1) leading in the South in the latest ratings.

Independents—Easton (6-0) is possibly the best team east of the Susquehanna River and perhaps in the whole state.

Midstate
South Penn—Defending Champion Carlisle (4-0) is favored to repeat on Nov. 14, it plays runner-up Chambersburg (3-1-1) which was tied by Hershey, 14-14, Friday.

West Penn—A rating system will determine this far-flung conference, but Lewistown, which has won all six of its conference games, looks like a good bet to repeat as titlist. The Panthers rank as one of the best in the state, averaging almost 42 points a game. Curwensville and Richland Twp. are unbeaten in eight games against both A and B competition. Indiana has won five in the conference—eight overall—and now has a 23-game winning streak to carry against tough Windber Friday night.

Independents—Central Dauphin is another great team with an 8-0 record, including William Penn and Carlisle among its more impressive victories. It defeated North Hagerstown (Md) Friday, 60-0.

West
WPIAL A—Blairsville, Brad-dock, Carnegie, Crafton, Hurst, Oakmont, Scott High, Waynesburg are unbeaten in their class. Brad-dock meets Scott his Friday. Crafton and Carnegie also are Friday rivals.

WPIAL B—Bridgeville, Edgewood, Hampton, Montour, Union Twp., Washington Twp., and West

2 Top Record In

X-Country Race

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP) —Two men bettered the previous record in 19th Pennsylvania Inter-scholastic Cross-Country Championship.

Joe Thomas of Uniontown set a new PIAA record of 10:39.7 in the two and one-eighth mile test Sunday.

Howard Deardorff of Johnstown, ninth a year ago, also finished under the old record. He was second in 10:45.

The previous record of 10:49.1 was set in 1955 by Joe Smith of Hickory.

Mt. Lebanon placed three men in the first six finishers to duplicate its team victory of last year and pace WPIAL (District 7) to its second successive win in the district championships.

FIRE JUG — Loretta Mori started a fire with a jug of water.

Sun rays passing through the jug were concentrated enough to set fire to the side of her house. Damage was slight.

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Passersby became curious at the sight of four small children clustered around a rain puddle on a local street. They came closer and saw the youngsters were merely giving their pet goldfish a bit of outdoor swimming.

Greene are unbeaten. Montour, co-champion last season with Avella, wound up its season Friday with a 76-0 victory over Bellevue.

Mountain-Bucktail Conferences—Proud St. Marys, riding a 29-game winning streak, has beaten all its opponents in both conferences to repeat as dual champion.

Section II—Warren, Corry and Franklin are co-champions with a 4-1 records.

Section III—Sharpsville won the title Friday with a 12-9 victory over Grove City.

Erie county Big Seven—Erie East (5-0) needs only to beat Erie Tech (0-5) to win the title. Erie Academy has finished its conference schedule with a 5-1 record.

Independents—Bradford is another of the state's best. Its seven victims include Erie East, Corry and Warren.

Pearson Takes a Look At McGonigle's Career

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1 — This begins a month of political debate and controversy on which depends the quality of American democracy.

Between now and November 4, the American people have to read about, hear about, sometimes get fooled about the men they pick to run the nation.

On whether they are fooled or educated, whether they see through the campaign talk or understand the straight talk, will depend the caliber of government after Election Day.

In an effort to penetrate the oratorical facades and the political tinsel, this column will report some of the facts that don't appear on the surface during the election campaign.

Here is one situation affecting the nation's third biggest electoral state, Pennsylvania, which has elected governors in all except three cases since the Civil War.

In an effort to continue that tradition, the Republican high command this year picked a relatively unknown pretzel manufacturer: Arthur T. McGonigle, in preference to Harold E. Stassen, who had been a hard-working assistant to President Eisenhower and negotiator for disarmament.

McGonigle was publicized as a self-made, clean-cut businessman who would bring a businesslike government to Pennsylvania.

Success Story
McGonigle is stocky, ruddy, pleasant and personable. He looks successful and he likes to talk his success story.

"I managed to scrape together $300 and my brother, Ray, got the same amount," McGonigle said of himself in an article published by the Philadelphia Inquirer on September 21, telling how McGonigle got his business start.

"And with some very necessary help from a bank," he continued, "we took over."

That, however, was not exactly the circumstance under which the Republican candidate for governor got his start as a prosperous pretzel magnate and head of Bachman Bakeries Corp. in Reading.

The facts are a matter of court record. They show that McGonigle's business start was by no means the American success story, but that pretzel manufacturer McGonigle got so twisted making a success of pretzels that he, his brother and their associates had to cough up $186,500, plus $50,000 in attorney's fees.

The record, in the U. S. District Court for Eastern Pennsylvania, September 29, 1937, shows in brief that McGonigle was appointed as a receiver of Bachman Bakeries to protect the interest of creditors, sold the company to himself for almost nothing, then had to pay up for doing this.

Deals Reported
Briefly, here is the detailed story. McGonigle was appointed March 23, 1936, as receiver for Bachman Bakeries, a company of which he had been vice president.

He was appointed by the Berks County Court on the nomination of Loraine J. Schumaker, who controlled American Cone and Pretzel, one of Bachman's chief creditors.

Eight days later, March 31, McGonigle sold Bachman's to Herbert Fields, of the Laurel Distributing Co., for only $3,140. The assets had been valued at $91,657,008. Later, it was charged that Laurel Distributing was a "fictitious purchaser."

This charge was made — and tacitly admitted — in Federal Court before Judge William H. Kirkpatrick Jr., when A. L. Hall, a shareholder for American Cone and Pretzel, brought suit against McGonigle, his brother and associates.

As the suit was settled for $186,500, the following colloquy took place in court:

"Counselor, are your clients putting up this $186,500?" asked Milton Selig, representing Integrity Management Co.

"I want to say we are putting up a considerable portion of it," replied John S. Rhoda, attorney for the two McGonigle brothers and their companies, Reading Baking and Pretzel and Bachman Bakeries.

Putting up a good part of $186,500, plus $50,000 attorney's fees, was good business. The McGonigles later sold Bachman Bakeries for a reported $3,500,000. Arthur McGonigle remained as president.

Scott Pardon Fee Recalls Post Cases

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10 — Republicans are unhappy over a new conflict-of-interest case of the type that has plagued the Eisenhower Administration.

This one involves a Republican congressman now running for the Senate — dapper Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania.

Coming on top of the Sherman Adams-Goldfine conflict of interest which forced Adams out of the White House, and on top of six other, conflict-of-interest officials who have been forced to resign, the Hugh Scott revelations bring no smiles in the Republican National Committee.

For it is now discovered that Scott who used to be chairman of the Republican National Committee, is charged with receiving $2,000 for getting a pardon in 1954 for Nicholas Marcello, convicted of robbery of a liquor warehouse and later deported to Italy. Shortly thereafter, Scott introduced a private bill in Congress to permit Marcello to return to the United States. The bill passed Congress.

It is a criminal offense for a member of Congress to take a fee, directly or indirectly through his law firm, for introducing legislation of any kind.

Irony Twist
Scott's conflict of interest came to light through an irony twist of political fate. Pennsylvania Republicans had been charging that Governor George Leader's Pardons Board had been granting a large number of pardons.

Leader, a Democrat, running against Scott for the Senate, repudiated that there had been fewer pardons under him than under Republican Governor James Duff and only half as many as under Republican Governor John Fine.

He then revealed that Scott himself had appeared before the Pardons Board in 1954 when Fine was governor and received a $2,000 fee for a 15-minute plea for Marcello, the South Philadelphia deportee, then living in Italy.

Scott was fully aware as a congressman it was questionable for him to introduce a private bill for a man from whom he had taken a legal fee. For he told the Pennsylvania Pardons Board that Marcello would apply for admission to the United States but that "such procedure would have to be handled by someone other than me."

The fee charged was ten times the normal fee for an appearance in such case before the State Pardons Board. Leader asserted, "Certainly everybody knew that the pardon would be worthless without the subsequent private bill."

Inopportune Time
In Washington, the Scott issue comes at an embarrassing moment, not only because of the Goldfine case but because the Justice Department, while not moving against either Goldfine or Adams, has called a special grand jury for action on Baron Shacklette, chief investigator for the Harris committee and the man who dug up the evidence against the two.

It also comes just after the death of Henry Grunewald, Democrat, who was hounded by the Justice Department after the U. S. Supreme Court upheld him and a federal jury had failed to convict.

All this has put the Justice Department in the position of prosecuting Democrats relentlessly while ignoring malfeasance by Republicans.

Scott's explanation in the Marcello private bill case is that his law firm got the money. Some previous precedents in Washington show that this is not valid.

Other Cases Cited
When Congressman Quinn (D-NY) represented clients, through his law firm, in a criminal case before the Justice Department, he was indicted by a Democratic-controlled Justice Department under Mr. Truman. In another case, Congressman Wood (D-Ga.) introduced a bill to compensate Ralph Stanfield, of Tate, Ga., for an injury by an Army truck. For this, Wood's law partner received a fee of $1,000.

The reaction of Georgia voters was such that Wood did not run for re-election. Later President Eisenhower appointed the ex-congressman (who had Republican leanings) to the Subversive Control Board, but was forced to withdraw his name when the Senate Judiciary Committee called attention to Wood's conflict of interest in collecting a fee through his law firm for the introduction of a private bill.

These are some of the precedents facing dapper Congressman Scott, who introduced a private bill for an ex-convict who had paid him and/or his law firm $2,000.

OHIO STATE, FAVORITE, IS UPSET 21-0

By JOE MOOSHIL
Associated Press Sports Writer
EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — Dick Thornton is an unassuming 19-year-old considered the most outstanding sophomore quarterback ever to break into the Big Ten.

Thornton, a product of Taft High School in Chicago, led Northwestern to a 21-0 victory over Ohio State Saturday. He has been a big factor in Northwestern's drive to a 5-1 season record and a 3-1-0 record in Big Ten play which is good for second place.

All this for a team which didn't win a single game last year.

Point Maker
Thornton passed for two touchdowns against Ohio State, scored another, kicked one extra point and added two more points with a pass.

Thornton's explanation for the Ohio State victory was: "We wanted to win it so bad that it didn't make any difference who we were playing. Maybe it was because Ohio State beat us so badly last year (47-6). Maybe because it was they were such big favorites. But we had the desire and determination."

Under Pressure
Coach Ara Parseghian said: "They simply wanted to win and this was even a bigger victory than that over Michigan (35-24). We broke the game wide open against Michigan in the second quarter and after that it was easy. But this game meant we were under pressure and we won under pressure."

Parseghian said his club didn't pull off anything new against Ohio State.

"We had no special plans for Bob White but he couldn't make the yardage when they needed it because our guys wouldn't let him."

Ohio State Coach Woody Hayes said: "My vote for coach of the year goes to Parseghian. Northwestern outplayed us, outplayed us, outplayed us and outplayed us."

SEEK SECOND IN INTERNATIONAL

LAUREL, Md. (AP) — Tudor Era and Bornastar had the inside track today as the Washington D.C. International committee met to pick a second U.S. representative for the Nov. 11 race.

Their weekend performances made one of them the most likely choice to be the running mate of Mrs. Adale Rand's Clem next Tuesday.

Tudor Era, carrying the silks of Mrs. Herbert Herff, won the mile and eighth Turf Cup at Laurel. Bornastar, owned by J. Graham Brown, won Saturday's Vineyard Handicap at Garden State for her sixth victory.

TRIP SPEEDED BY WRECKER

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The oxygen tank which the life of tiny Susan Butters depended was almost empty when the tow truck came by.

The 7-month-old child, suffering a heart ailment, was being rushed from her Williamsport home to St. Christopher's Hospital Saturday night. The ambulance blew a tire on the Schuylkill Expressway just outside the city.

The jack wouldn't work. A state trooper escorting the ambulance telephoned the nearby Conshohocken Fire Company for more oxygen.

The ambulance men, the trooper, the child's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Butters, waited. The tow truck came by.

In minutes the crew changed the tire. The ambulance was on its way before the fire company arrived.

Susan was still under an oxygen tent today, in fair condition—holding her own, the hospital said.

By WILL GRIMSLEY

Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Monday's football wash, and no crying towels this time for Ohio State's Coach Woody Hayes:

"We were outplayed, outplayed, outplayed, outplayed, outplayed," Hayes said after Ohio State's disaster at Evanston. "He left out one... The Buckeyes also were outscored 21-0 by Northwestern... Paul Dietzel, coach of top-ranked LSU's wrecking crew, also was subdued after his team routed Mississippi 21-0, but for a different reason..." Let us be good and humble," he told his boys. "Let us be proud, just like the first football team in the nation should be."

A special shoe had to be made for Bob Yates, the left-footed kicker whose 18-yard field goal proved the margin of victory in Syracuse's 16-13 upset of Pitt... A significant remark by Bob Harris, Oklahoma center, after the Sooners' 23-7 win over Colorado: "Colorado's twice as tough as Texas"... Texas beat Oklahoma 13-14.

Two near riots, fist fights involving players and fans, enlivened the North Carolina-Tennessee game at Knoxville... After one melee, a gentle little lady strode across the field and shook the hand of a player on the North Carolina bench... Then she walked calmly back to her seat... It was the mother of a Tarheel tackle and maybe she wanted to see if her offspring was okay.

Notre Dame looked like one of the old Knute Rockne and Frank Leahy teams in smothering Navy 40-20... "Best game we have played in six years," said one ND official... Army's point-a-minute 68-6 romp over Colgate was the highest in the series since 1908.

Blame Cuban Rebels For Air Crash In Which 17 Lost Lives

By GEORGE KAUFMAN

HAVANA, Cuba (AP) — The Cuban government today planned to demand special protection for Cuban airliners and passengers in the United States as the result of rebel seizure of a plane which crashed and killed 17 persons.

The three survivors said four Cuban rebels commandeered the big Viscount turboprop airliner Saturday night on a flight from Miami to Varadero Beach, 87 miles east of Havana.

The wreckage was spotted Sunday in shallow waters of the Bay of Nipe near Preston, in rebel-infested Oriente Province.

Sought Headlines

The Cubana Airline said Fidel Castro rebels seized the plane to make headlines for their movement on the eve of the Cuban national election today but they caused it to crash when they forced the pilot to attempt a landing in darkness on an airstrip that was too small.

Those killed were the four gunmen, the four Cuban crew members, three other Cubans and six naturalized Americans born in Cuba.

The plane was the second seized in flight since Oct. 21. On that date, an authoritative source said, two rebels among the passengers seized a DC3 with 12 other persons aboard on a domestic flight from Cayo Mambi to Mao Bay.

HUGH SCOTT
for U.S. Senate

Republicans and Democrats alike have joined in sending Hugh Scott to Congress for 8 terms from a Democratic District! Why?—because he is an honest, friendly, energetic leader who candidly says what he thinks, works hard for everybody.

Scott's 16 useful years in Washington have given Pennsylvania a well-informed lawmaker. An expert in international law, Scott as a U. S. delegate, saved U. S. taxpayers $3 million yearly by forcing an increase in payments from other nations to international organizations.

Recently, Scott prevented the legislative imposition on family budgets of a "bread tax" of 1¢ a loaf, a milk tax of 1¢ a quart. Scott keeps in constant touch with the "folks back home"—giving their problems his personal attention.

Scott served the Navy in two wars, is married, has one daughter and one grand-daughter. He's a member of the Episcopal Church. He's a lawyer, Phi Beta Kappa, holds four University degrees, speaks five languages.

Hugh's for you!

ARTHUR T. MCGONIGLE
for Governor

Folks like young aggressive Art McGonigle. Born in Kane, Pa., he was graduated from Kane High School and Temple University. A son of a railroader, he was left fatherless at 13. He went to work then at 11 cents an hour.

Now, only 52, he heads the largest pretzel business, providing jobs for over 500 workers. He is typical of the young man who came up the hard way and made good right here in Pennsylvania.

Today, he is spearheading the Republican crusade against big-city bossism and deceit in government. He has always been active in youth service and community projects.

He is a Trustee of Temple University and member of the Board of St. Joseph's Hospital. For the last 25 years he and his family have lived in Berks County.

McGonigle is a member of the Lutheran Church, a 32nd Degree Mason and member of Rajah Shrine. He married Cordelia Edris of Lebanon County in 1929 and they have three children and three grandchildren.

JOHN M. WALKER
for Lieutenant Governor

John M. Walker, of Oakmont, Allegheny County, candidate for Lieutenant Governor, has a long and outstanding record of public service—a Borough Solicitor, a School Board Solicitor, a member of Borough Council, special counsel to Gifford Pinchot and Deputy Attorney General of the Commonwealth. He was elected to the State Senate in 1938 and served 16 consecutive years in that body. Four of those years he was the Republican Floor Leader. For the past seven years, he has been the Republican County Commissioner of Allegheny County.

His knowledge of state government, his ability to handle legislative details and his campaign against the present evils of the State Pardon Board make him an ideal candidate.

An Infantry veteran from the First World War, an active member of his Presbyterian Church, he is married and has two sons. He is an ideal running-mate for our gubernatorial candidate.

ROBERT E. WOODSIDE
for Supreme Court

Judge Robert E. Woodside has had an interest in government since he served as a Senate page boy in the 1921-23 sessions. He worked his way through law school as a reporter in Harrisburg.

Woodside began law practice in Harrisburg 30 years ago, and four years later was elected to his first term in the State House of Representatives where he served for 10 years until moving up to the Dauphin County Common Pleas Court.

Woodside resigned from the bench to become State Attorney General from 1951 to 1953, and then was named to the State Superior Court. He won a full 10-year term in 1954 with the unqualified endorsement of both Republicans and Democrats.

A dedicated civic worker in his community of Millersburg, Judge Woodside last year was chairman of the Tri-County Mental Health Week Committee sponsored by the Mental Health Association. He is a Shriner and 33rd Degree Mason.

He is head of the Commission established by the Legislature to study revision of the Commonwealth's Constitution. He is married, has three children and is a member of the Evangelical United Brethren Church.

ANDREW J. GLEASON
for Secretary of Internal Affairs

Andrew J. Gleason is vigorous, red-headed and self-reliant.

A successful attorney, outspoken "Andy" thinks and talks in a manner that strikes home with voters. He has earned the respect of union workers through his many representations of unions as an attorney.

A graduate engineer before entering law school, he has extensive executive background—being chairman of the Board of one of Central Pennsylvania's largest building construction companies, and also of an engineering and design company.

Gleason (plus 4 brothers and 3 brothers-in-law) served in World War II. He has continued his interest in veterans affairs—is particularly remembered as State Parliamentarian of the American Legion in 1946-47.

He has had a continual active interest in Republican affairs, serving on the State Executive Committee and several campaign committees.

A resident of Johnstown, Andy is married and has two sons and one daughter—all now in college. He is a member of the Mother of Sorrows Catholic Church in Johnstown.

winners selected were: Needle crafter, Joyce Hymiller and Nancy Harner; samplers, Faith Redding; applique, Joyce Hymiller and Faith Redding; home articles, Faith Redding and Suzanne Weaver; weaving, Joyce Hymiller and

Suzanne Weaver; safety exhibit, Joyce Rhinehart and Suzanne Weaver. A program was presented by the girls. The color guard was composed of Loretta O'Donnell, Sandra Kuhns, Carole Stuller and Hope Sentz. A Halloween skit with the members participating was staged; there was a group song and the National Anthem. Mrs. Kenneth Stuller poured for the tea. Committees arranging the affair were: Entertainment, Sally Eusbey, Carole Stuller, Hope Sentz, Sandra Kuhns and Loretta O'Donnell; decorating, Suzanne Weaver, Faith Redding, Alice Redding and Nancy Harner; refreshments, Anna Louise Krichen, Joyce Hymiller, Camilla Sentz and Susan Collins.

Party At Church

The Halloween party for the children of the Sunday School of Centenary Methodist Church was held on Friday evening at the church with approximately 35 children in attendance. Decorations, games and refreshments were in charge of Mrs. Chester S. Byers, Mrs. Joseph Musselman, Mrs. James Smith, Mrs. Robert Harner, Mrs. Luther Brown and Mrs. Ralph R. Ruggles. The Rev. and Mrs. William R. Jones and Mrs. Luther Brown were judges for costumes and selected the following: prettiest, Michelle Harner, as a bride; Sandra Lee King, the cutest, as a devil; Wayne Barnhart, ugliest, a pirate; Dennis Musselman, a cowboy; Douglas Ruggles, a dog from outer space, all for the most original; Mrs. Lloyd Harner, hardest to guess, as a baseball player. Group games were won by Dennis and Douglas Musselman, Andrea Lynn King and Douglas Ruggles. Refreshments were then enjoyed.

In Holland Thanksgiving Day services are offered for Americans visiting or working in that tiny country.

BANKS FIGHT CHARGES OF "INFLATION"

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Commercial banks are fighting back today at the widespread charge that by helping the U.S. Treasury finance its 12 billion dollar deficit they will be feeding the fires of future monetary inflation.

The banks know that anything that might send the cost of living higher later on would be unpopular with the public. And they want to correct the notion they're a part of the act.

Actually, they say, they can't afford under today's credit policies to hold these short term government securities. So these bills and certificates are rapidly passing into the hands of corporations and others seeking to hold liquid funds.

Base Case On Survey

Corporations favor them because rates are high enough of late to bring in attractive returns on idle funds, and the securities can be sold quickly when needed to pay taxes or other expenses.

The banks base their case on a U.S. Treasury survey of the ownership as of July 21 of the 67.8 billion dollars of marketable government securities due within one year. Federal Reserve Banks and U.S. government trust funds held 22.9 billion dollars of them. Less than one third of the remainder were held by commercial banks.

The charge is often made that the recent short term treasury financing will be inflationary because these securities are likely to be purchased by commercial banks with effects of increasing deposits and thus the money supply.

But the Federal Reserve's restrictive credit policy — higher charges that banks must pay if they borrow from it, and keeping down the free reserves of banks — has worked against this. First it squeezed the banks ability to buy and hold the securities. Second it produced higher interest rates which attracted outsiders.

The First National City Bank of New York says today: "What happened was that the banks initially took on the bulk of the new securities as underwriters. Pressures on their reserves forced them to sell off the securities as quickly as buyers could be found."

Then the bank, after noting the treasury's technical success so far in getting its deficit financing redistributed outside the banks, warns that short term financing still involves an inflationary process.

The cash the treasury got is being spent, thus increasing active money circulation, and the corporations and others have "an undeniable claim upon the treasury for future money."

Best for the State, Nation and YOU!

George M. Leader
Candidate for United States Senator

George Michael Leader has proved himself one of the most forceful and effective Governors in Pennsylvania's history. His record of accomplishment and his courageous concern with problems of humane need guarantee that he will make an outstanding United States Senator. Leader became Pennsylvania's 39th Governor on January 18, 1955, just one day after his 37th birthday. He was the first Democrat in 16 years to be elected to the Commonwealth's highest office.

A few of the accomplishments of the Leader Administration: Pennsylvania was the first state in the nation to move decisively to help combat the national recession. Hundreds of already authorized public works projects—schools, highways, bridges—were pushed far ahead of schedule to create badly needed jobs immediately. This was done without the expenditure of one dime in new taxes.

An effective program was established to bring new industry to Pennsylvania and to foster expansion of industry already here. With the Commonwealth working hand in hand with local communities and private business, more than 54,000 jobs have been provided since 1955. This program has become a model for other states.

The largest program of school construction ever undertaken in any state was carried forward. This means new school facilities for approximately a third of a million Pennsylvania students.

A humane, modern program of care for the mentally ill—based on cure, not custody—was instituted. A model for other states, this program will enable many thousands of men, women and children to become productive citizens again, instead of wards of the state.

The first upgrading of the quality of elementary and secondary education in the Commonwealth in more than a generation was initiated. This means that students now will get more instruction in English; more instruction in reading; more science; more mathematics, grade by grade—in other words, a better education.

A special education program for mentally and physically handicapped children was made mandatory so that approximately 100,000 children with low IQ's and physical handicaps now are assured a better start in life.

The most extensive road-building program in the history of Pennsylvania was inaugurated. The project embraces the construction of 7,500 miles of high-type roads, hundreds of miles of modern four-lane highways and construction or improvement of more than 700 bridges.

Governor Leader, who is now 40, grew up in York County, where he owns a farm. He attended Gettysburg College and the University of Pennsylvania. During World War II, he served as an officer on the aircraft carrier Randolph. Prior to becoming Governor, he served with distinction in the State Senate. He is married to the former Mary Jane Strickler and has four children.

JOHN MORGAN DAVIS

GENEVIEVE BLATT
For Re-election Secretary of Internal Affairs

JUDGE CURTIS BOK
For Judge of Supreme Court

JAMES M. QUIGLEY
For Congress

CHARLES B. BENDER
For The General Assembly

John Morgan Davis of Philadelphia was elected Judge of Court of Common Pleas No. 4 on November 6, 1951. He resigned from the bench when he began active campaigning.

He was born in Shenandoah, Pa., August 9, 1906. His family moved shortly thereafter to Reading, where he received his early education. He worked his way through Wharton School of Finance and Commerce and the University of Pennsylvania Law School.

Judge Davis was chief counsel for the Committee of the House of Representatives which investigated Housing in Philadelphia between March and July of 1951.

He was a member of the Trial Board of the Philadelphia Council of Defense charged with responsibility for adjudicating all complaints against Civil Defense personnel. Also, he was Commander of the Control Center during World War II.

He was Presidential Elector for Franklin D. Roosevelt and Harry S. Truman in 1944.

Prior to his election to the bench he served as general counsel of the National Association of Broadcasters and the Philadelphia Radio and Television Broadcasters' Association.

From January, 1950, to January, 1952, Judge Davis was Co-Chairman of the Philadelphia Citizens' Charter Committee, which spearheaded the campaign for adoption of Philadelphia's new Home Rule Charter.

He holds the Distinguished Service Award of the Military Order of the Purple Heart.

Judge Davis is married to the former Eva B. Pierson of Conshohocken. They have three children.

He is a member of the Welsh Society, the American Judicature Society and the Lawyers' Club and Sociological Club of Philadelphia.

Genevieve Blatt is the first woman in Pennsylvania to be elected to any State-wide office and the only woman to be endorsed for such office in the 1958 election. She is the first woman to be elected Secretary of Internal Affairs since the office was created in 1873.

She has been Secretary of Internal Affairs since May 3, 1955, and has made that Department of real service to the people of Pennsylvania. She administers five bureaus and serves on numerous boards and commissions.

A practicing attorney and an executive in Municipal and State Government, Miss Blatt served as Secretary and Chief Examiner of the Pittsburgh Civil Service Commission and as assistant City Solicitor of Pittsburgh. From 1945 to 1949, she was in the State Treasury Department as Executive Director and Deputy State Treasurer.

In 1956, she was elected to membership in the Distinguished Daughters of Pennsylvania.

She is active in the American Association of University Women, the League of Women Voters, the American, Pennsylvania and Allegheny County Bar Associations and the National Association of Women Lawyers.

Her qualities of leadership won her early prominence in the Democratic Party. She served three terms as state president of the Young Democratic Clubs and has been Secretary of the Democratic State Committee since 1948. She was a delegate-at-large and vice chairman of the Pennsylvania Delegation to the Democratic National Convention in 1956.

Born in East Brady, Clarion County, she earned B.A. and M.A. degrees at the University of Pittsburgh, majoring in political science. She was graduated from the University of Pittsburgh Law School and was admitted to the bar in 1938.

Judge Curtis Bok—Democratic candidate for Judge of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania—has earned a national reputation as one of America's most distinguished jurists. He recently was selected by LIFE magazine for inclusion in a series of articles dealing with outstanding members of the Judiciary.

Son of a famous father — Edward W. Bok, whose name was a household word to an earlier generation of Americans—he has won a full measure of respect and admiration for his own achievements.

For more than 30 years he has been President Judge of Philadelphia's famous "Court of Common Pleas No. 6"—regarded by Bench and Bar as one of the Commonwealth's finest. Earlier he served on the Orphans' Court of Philadelphia County, and as Assistant District Attorney of Philadelphia County.

Born in Wyncote, Pennsylvania, he received his early education at Chestnut Hill Academy, Philadelphia, and the Hill School, Pottstown. He attended William College, Williamstown, Massachusetts, leaving to enter the United States Navy April 7, 1917, as Quartermaster 3rd Class. He was discharged June 19, 1919, as Lieutenant, Senior Grade. He was graduated from the University of Virginia Law School in 1921.

He is a member of the Philadelphia, Pennsylvania and American Bar Associations, and of the American Law Institute.

Married to the former Nellie Lee Holt, of Falls City, Nebraska, he is the father of five children.

When James M. Quigley served in Congress the people of Adams, Cumberland and York Counties not only had a good congressman — they knew that they had one. Every week by means of press and radio reports Congressman Quigley told the people what he did, how he voted and why.

But the folks home weren't the only ones aware of the job Jim Quigley did in the Congress. Quigley's efforts not only inspired favorable editorial comments in his own district and state but in other states as well. His Congressional activities brought him coverage by such nationally syndicated columnists as Marcus Childs, David Lawrence and Drew Pearson.

An able lawyer and a combat veteran of World War II, Jim Quigley has the courage, the judgment and the fight to give Adams, Cumberland and York Counties the kind of representation in Washington they need and deserve.

VOTED for better schools—for better roads — for civil rights—for increased minimum wages—for improved Social Security—for better retirement for railroad and Federal workers—for higher pay for postal and government employees—for helpful farm programs—for just veterans' benefits—for increased dependent exemptions on your income tax—for a strong national defense—for reciprocal trade — for foreign aid and for a strong foreign policy.

Charles B. Bender was born in Gettysburg, Pa., attended Public Schools, Temple University; Retail Merchant for over 25 years at same location in Gettysburg; active in Gettysburg Chamber of Commerce; President of Gettysburg Retail Merchants Association; member Gettysburg Travel Council; former School Director; member of Citizens Evergreen Cemetery Association; member of the Pennsylvania Proprietary Medicine Dealers Association; served on Gettysburg Community Chest Publicity Committee and has been active in many civic enterprises. He is a member of St. James Lutheran Church and is married to the former Sarah S. Spangler of Carlisle, Pa. They have a daughter and son, Nancy (Mrs. James Slaybaugh) and Charles Jr., of Gettysburg.

You want our community to receive its full share of State assistance and our State to receive its full share of Federal aid.

You want Pennsylvania to be first again. Mayor Lawrence led the drive that put new life in the city of Pittsburgh. He can do the same for Pennsylvania, but he needs the help of a Democratic Legislature.

You want honest, effective, humanitarian and responsible government.

I am asking you to vote for me because I want to help Dave Lawrence make Pennsylvania first. I sincerely believe I can make our community and our State a better place for all of us.

BOTH SIDES SEE VICTORY IN TUESDAY'S VOTING IN PA.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — GOP efforts to hang on to the traditionally Republican Keystone State and Democratic attempts to include the state in a predicted national landslide will be decided on Tuesday at the polls.

The two major contests, for governor and U. S. senator, have captured the most voter interest in a generally dull campaign.

In the race for governor, the Democratic candidate is Mayor David L. Lawrence of Pittsburgh, 69. His political activity for almost a half century has earned him the title "Mr. Democrat of Pennsylvania."

The Main Candidate
The GOP candidate for governor is Arthur T. McGonigle, 52, of Reading, a pretzel manufacturer and the Republicans' "new face" candidate. He is making his first bid for public office.

U. S. Rep. Hugh Scott, 57, an eight term Republican congressman from Philadelphia, is running for U. S. senator against Gov. George M. Leader, 40, Democrat. Leader was comparatively unknown until four years ago when he surprised an entrenched GOP organization with a 279,000 vote victory margin. He became the second Democratic governor in the state in 20 years.

3 Other State Officers
Most soundings of voter sentiment have favored the Democrats but both sides predict victory. The Democrats claim a smashing victory and a 400,000 vote majority; the Republicans claim their uphill campaign will bring them a 100,000 majority.

The polls will be open from 7 a.m. until close at 8 p.m. in 8,914 voting precincts.

Also at stake in the election are three other statewide offices, secretary of internal affairs, Supreme Court and lieutenant governor; 30 representatives to Congress; all 210 representatives to the Legislature, and 26 seats in the 50-member state Senate.

Big Cities Democratic
Republicans now control both branches of the legislature and have a majority in the state's delegation in Congress.

Democrats base their claims of victory on solid strength in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh. Both cities went Democratic during the last two national GOP sweeps under Eisenhower.

Republicans hope to offset the city margins with good showings in the usually Republican suburban Philadelphia counties and the rural areas.

But both sides concede anything can happen with the outcome hanging, perhaps, on the voter turnout and the weather.
The Nominees
The registration figures show 2,771,613 Republicans eligible to vote and 2,554,007 Democrats. The Republican margin of more than 217,000 is 50,000 less than the May 20 primary. It compares with a margin of more than 900,000 four years ago.

DULLES NOW 2 YEARS PAST HIS OPERATION

By JOHN SCALI
WASHINGTON (AP)—John Foster Dulles, the nation's first jet-propelled secretary of state, observes today the second anniversary of his cancer operation. He apparently has no major aches or pains to discourage him from new travels.

Within the next few days, he is expected to undergo his semiannual physical checkup. His work-and-travel schedule, including his recent round trip by jet plane to Rome and Formosa, gives no indication of any physical weakening.

Two years ago a cancerous piece of his intestine was removed in an emergency operation.

He's 70 Now
Today, at 70, Dulles has seemingly bounced back as vigorous as ever, astonishing friends and critics alike.

One of his aides says that Dulles, undismayed by criticism, if anything, is working away full blast at a pace even more furious than his preoperation schedule.

He still maintains a seven-day-a-week schedule, checking in to his fifth-floor office at 8:30 a.m. He usually leaves after 7 p.m.

Plans More Trips
On Saturdays and Sundays he works at home, keeping one of his

In addition to the candidates for governor and U. S. Senate, there are these nominees:

For lieutenant governor: Democrat—John Morgan Davis, 52, who resigned a Philadelphia Common Pleas judgeship to run. Republican—John M. Walker, 58, an Allegheny County commissioner who once served as state Republican floor leader.

For Supreme Court: Democrat—President Judge Curtis Bok, 61, of Philadelphia Common Pleas Court No. 6, who comes from a publishing family long known for its philanthropic activities. Republican—Judge Robert E. Woodside, 54, of the state Superior Court who was a Dauphin County jurist before serving as attorney general in the administration of former Gov. John S. Fine.

For secretary of internal affairs: Democrat—Miss Genevieve Blatt, 45, Pittsburgh, the first woman in Pennsylvania history elected to a state-wide office. She is running for re-election. Republican—Andrew J. Gleason, 51, a Johnstown attorney and civil engineer who has been Cambria County GOP leader for years.

6 Seats Doubtful
The Democrats were given their best chance in years to win a majority of the state's 30 congressional seats. The GOP now has a 17 to 13 edge over the Democrats in the delegation. Six seats are in the doubtful class.

Republicans also controlled the state Assembly during the 1957 legislature, 126 to 84. The Senate was GOP by a 27 to 23 margin.

A sweep of all areas—not just the cities—would be required to give the Democrats control of the Legislature, especially in the Senate where Republicans have 16 holdovers to 8 for the Democrats.

The voter turnout is not expected to reach 80 per cent as it did in the 1956 presidential election. It could fall below the 72 per cent turnout of the 1954 gubernatorial election.

The campaign lost color because there were no overriding issues. Taxes, the big issue four years ago, failed to materialize as a focal point for campaign controversy.

McGonigle contended a Democratic victory will mean a state-wide wage tax. Lawrence denies that an income tax will be necessary despite the prospect of having to raise some half million dollars in new tax revenue.

Both Lawrence and McGonigle favor broadening the state's 3 per cent sales tax to cover presently untaxed items.

In the senatorial campaign Scott based his appeal for votes on his 16 years as a congressman. Leader campaigned on his record as governor, particularly citing the fields of mental health, education, highway safety and industrial development.

Keep Digging For 25 More Miners

SPRINGHILL, N. S. (AP) — Rescue workers kept digging today in the Cumberland No. 2 coal mine but there was no real hope for any of the 25 men still missing.

Three more bodies were brought out Sunday night, bringing the total recovered to 49. One hundred miners were rescued, the last seven on Saturday after 8 1/2 days deep underground in a small debris-enclosed pocket.

The 174 miners were caught in an underground earth shift Oct. 23 which jammed the shaft at various points with rock and rubble and loosed poison gas.

Secretaries busy with her notebook and electric typewriter in an upstairs room.

A clue to his future plans, said an aide, is that Dulles is confidently planning two more far-reaching diplomatic trips overseas.

This will add thousands of miles to the record-breaking 531,142 total he's recorded since taking office nearly six years ago.

The Rock of Gibraltar was known to ancient sailors as one of the Pillars of Hercules.

BELAFONTE TO BE ON ALLEN SHOW SUNDAY

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP) — Harry Belafonte, that superb singer of folk songs, will make his first American television appearance in more than a year next Sunday on the Steve Allen Show (NBC).

Allen will turn over an uninterrupted 20 minutes of his program to Belafonte, who returned recently from a successful concert tour of Europe. In the past year Belafonte has turned down numerous television offers.

"I simply won't consider going on television for three or four minutes," Belafonte said the other day. "I'm not a singer pushing my latest hit recordings. I have to have an opening, build to a climax, and tie up what I have to say."

BBC Delighted

Belafonte was delighted with two half-hour programs he did for BBC television in England—and BBC was so delighted with his performance that it wants him to do three TV engagements annually for the next four years.

"BBC has the advantage of not being under pressure to please so many diversified opinions as television in our country," Belafonte said. "There's no froth about ratings and worrying about whether you'll be on next season. Television, as presented by BBC, is mature and meaningful."

"If it takes me four minutes to tell something I don't want somebody to insist on cutting 30 seconds out of it. The artist should not be butchered to meet the needs of the organization. This is the way I work."

Won't Take Weekly Show

Belafonte's last appearance on American television was in August, 1957 when he did a brief stint with Nat "King" Cole, a fellow Negro artist who had an excellent program for several months. No Negro now has a regular program on network television.

"If it were offered to me I wouldn't take a regular weekly television program," Belafonte said. "It's impossible for an artist—or at least this artist—to go on for 26 consecutive weeks singing and performing and maintaining anything above the standard of mediocrity. A master of ceremonies can do it, of course, but a performer cannot."

AIRLINES SIGN STRIKE PACT

WASHINGTON (AP) — Major U. S. airlines have signed a pact to share the financial burden of a strike affecting any of them.

One of the lines, Capital, has been hit by a 19-day strike of mechanics. Another, Eastern, faces a threat by its mechanics to strike at midnight.

Other lines signing the pact were American, Trans World, United and Pan American. They invited additional airlines to join.

The agreement calls for giving a strike-iddled airline the extra net passenger and freight revenue realized by those carriers still operating. It will be filed today with the Civil Aeronautics Board. Airline officials said board approval was not required.

Announce Purpose
Eastern is locked in a contract dispute with the International Assn. of Machinists. The issues are the same as those in the strike at Capital.

Four other airlines—National Northeast, Northwest and TWA—have similar disputes but they face no immediate strike threats. The announced purpose of the mutual aid pact is "to counteract the effects of excessive labor demands which result in shutting down a vital segment of the nation's transportation system."

SLEEPLESS Nights Due To Upset NERVES

One Gettysburg lady recently stated that for over a year she didn't get a good night's rest. She would toss and roll about the bed, all night long, due to Upset Nerves. She got Sys-Tone and said the second night after she started taking it she slept 8 SOLID hours. Now she sleeps soundly, every night, and says she feels fine every morning.

SYS-Tone is helping nervous men and women all over Gettysburg. Contains vitamins to quiet the nerves—without harmful drugs—and Carminative Herbs to relieve gas and aid digestion. Also contains Iron and the best vitamins for energy. Costs only a few cents a day. So don't go on suffering. Get Sys-Tone—Peoples Drug Store. Also sold by all drug stores in Gettysburg and nearby towns.

Letters To The Editor

Oct. 30, 1958

Dear Sir:

I have been told that another garbage collector than those who have been servicing Gettysburg is being considered; and that he refuses to travel our alleys to make his collections and expects us to decorate our front pavements with garbage cans for his trips here, as well as to pay him considerably more than our present servicing costs.

Can you imagine how much the attractiveness of our town would be increased for the sought-after tourists and everyone here, if this method were allowed? Especially in the residential areas and where there is a building containing 15 apartments (15 garbage cans) on a main street? Even the parking meters would hang their heads in shame or cough up all their contents over the sidewalks! And for those without any outside passageway from yard to front street, how delightful to keep totting garbage through the length of their living quarters!

Contrast with the above the consideration of the local collector who has been willing even to climb to a third-floor back porch to assist a patron.

Cannot our present employees continue to do at least the initial portion of this collecting, or some arrangement be arrived at to keep garbage from ever appearing on our front streets in Gettysburg?

Very much concerned
A Long-time Resident

the ban on Jordan's air and road transport across U.A.R. territory.

The last British troops in Jordan sail from Aqaba Sunday.

Alerted in time to its shortcomings, Congress dumped the Kennedy-Ives pretense of a labor bill, and thus cleared the way for a real labor reform bill in the coming Congress.

Anyone who has been following the activities of labor unions in recent years knows that the problem is a much greater one than simply bringing Jimmy Hoffa to heel.

A real labor reform bill, at a minimum, must do these things that the Kennedy-Ives bill failed to touch upon:

1. Curb labor monopoly, which is one of the strongest forces for inflation and the only regulated monopoly tolerated by law in the U. S. today.
2. Curb the secondary boycott, a weapon used indiscriminately by labor against persons who have no connection with labor disputes whatsoever.
3. Protect employers and employees against black-mail picketing, which has no place in legitimate labor organizing methods.
4. Prohibit the use of union dues for political purposes.
5. Ban compulsory union membership, which is an abridgment of freedom of association guaranteed by the Constitution.

A real labor reform bill will protect the union members from gangster leaders, as the Kennedy-Ives bill purported to do. But it will not be loaded with concessions to powerful labor leaders which remove some of the protections the public already has. Kennedy-Ives contained these provisions, penalizing employers and the public to make it acceptable to labor leaders:

1. It would have given unions jurisdiction over management's supervisors.
  2. It would have allowed construction unions to force contracts upon employers before a man was hired, and compel any who were hired to join those unions.
  3. It would have allowed strikers who had been discharged legally and replaced by other workers to vote in representation elections. This would have allowed those who were not employees a voice in selection of a union for those who were employees.
- Every day the need for true labor reform becomes more evident, through the revelations of the McClellan labor racket committee, and through observation of wage-price inflation upon the econ-

GOP'S ELDER LOYAL VOTER

VERGENNES, Vt. (AP)—At the age of 106 — two years older than the Republican party — Mrs. Frances Simpson intends to vote again Tuesday.

She says her father cast his ballot for Abraham Lincoln and that this year, as usual, she'll vote the same way: Republican. Conceding there doubtless are good Democrats, Mrs. Simpson says, "I am what I am. My father voted Republican and I'm going to carry on the way he did."

Mrs. Simpson not only has outlived her generation, but also all but one of her immediate family. Her husband died 35 years ago. One daughter — of the five children she brought up — still lives. Life brought Mrs. Simpson hard work, bereavement, small material reward — but as she passed the century mark — loyal friends.

Has Friend Aged 6
Born in Moriah, N. Y., she came to Vermont in 1893. She was living alone when stricken ill, and hospitalized, 12 years ago. A neighbor and her daughter took Mrs. Simpson in for what her doctor thought might be her last days. Her sight and hearing are less keen than of yore.

A little girl friend is 100 years younger than Mrs. Simpson. Terry Lee Miller, 6, comes from next door with gifts and each omy.

The way to insure such a bill is to make certain now, before election, that your candidate is one who understands the problem and will vote accordingly when the labor problem comes up in the 86th Congress.

EMMITSBURG — Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Umbel and daughter, Carolyn, spent the weekend visiting relatives in Ohio.

Vincent Topper, Harrisburg, visited his mother, Mrs. Stella Topper, a few days this week. The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Glass was baptized Sunday at St. Joseph's Catholic Church. The grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Kelly, were sponsors for the baby, who received the name Francis Patrick.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Rodgers, Baltimore, are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son. Mrs. Rodgers is the former Miss Dolores Topper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Topper. Mr. Rodgers is the son of Mrs. Carrie Rodgers, all of Emmitsburg.

A Halloween party was held Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Harner, Gettysburg Rd., in honor of their children, Mildred, Jim, Rodgers and Luann. These present were: Barbara Michaels, Nancy Starner, Pat and Joe Topper, Mark Brown, Lisa Warthen, Barbara, Patricia and Wayne Topper, David and

What's her secret of long life? "I wish I knew," the aged woman says wistfully. "I used to work hard out in the fields when we lived on the farm."

"But now I do nothing except sit and take it easy."
What would she like most to have now? She leans forward and whispers, "A new set of corsets."

POLITICS

HARRISBURG (AP)—Arthur T. McGonigle, the Republican candidate for governor, today predicted a victory for the Republican party ticket in the general election Tuesday.

"The Republicans offer a program of integrity, economy and efficiency in government," he said in a pre-election statement.

"All the Democrats have to present is a promise of more of the same type of mismanagement and maladministration that Gov. George Leader was inflicted on the people during the past four years."

George I. Bloom, Republican state chairman, said the Republican campaign will close tonight with a telecast on an eight-station hookup.

The 30-minute show, with all of the statewide GOP candidates, is scheduled at 10 p.m. on stations in Altoona, Harrisburg, Philadelphia, Lancaster, Scranton, Erie, Pittsburgh and Binghamton, N.Y. "Republicans and Democrats interested in good government and an end to the squandering, fumbling and irresponsible government of the past four years under Democrats will have an opportunity to view the reasons why the Scott-McGonigle ticket is their guarantee of forward looking government," Bloom said.

HARRISBURG (AP)—State Sen. Joseph M. Barr, Democratic State chairman, predicts a Democratic party on Tuesday "will roll up the biggest victory any party has ever achieved in Pennsylvania."

Barr said in a weekend statement the Republicans have abandoned hope for the election of Arthur T. McGonigle, GOP candidate for governor, or Hugh Scott, GOP candidate for U.S. Senator.

"Instead, they are concentrating their money and effort to hold a few seats in the state Senate," he said.

In another pre-election statement, Gov. George Leader, Democratic candidate for U.S. Senate, pledged, if elected, to support vigorous, practical action to control the constantly rising cost of living.

In a weekend statement, Gov. Leader maintained that his administration gave "new hope and a better chance in life to many thousands of citizens.

"The responsibility of decent government is to furnish moral leadership. This is what we have done in this administration," Leader said.

Business Picking Up As Election Nears, 98,000 Shiny New Cars Produced

By WALTER BREEDER JR.
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—With election day just around the corner, the nation's recovery from recession continued to pick up steam this week.

The auto industry came to life with a sudden production spurt that promised to benefit many other lines of business.

General Motors settled the last of its local labor disputes and swung into high gear.

Ford, Plymouth, Dodge, Rambler and Studebaker went on over-time. Some 98,000 shiny new models rolled off the assembly lines—the biggest weekly output of passenger cars from U. S. factories since February.

Steel production, paperboard output and freight carloadings slowed up a bit. Stock prices retreated a little from their historic highs.

Stock sales last week totaled 10,736,560 shares compared to 19,463,614 shares the previous week and 9,958,284 in the corresponding week last year.

Bond sales had a par value of $31,816,000 last week compared to $26,081,500 the week before and $22,872,100 in the same 1957 week.

Still very much on the upbeat were department store sales, electric power use, and dollar volume of contracts awarded for future construction.

Construction Gaining

A report by F. W. Dodge Corp. showed construction contract awards still racking up impressive gains over 1957.

Contracts let during September were up 26 per cent from a year ago. Residential contracts showed a 27 per cent rise and highway construction a gain of 47 per cent.

But contracts awarded for manufacturing plants were down 17 per cent in dollar volume, indicating that Big Business is not yet ready to boost its capital spending plans.

Profits Down

The pattern of general business recovery showed up clearly in the latest batch of corporate earnings reports. By and large, the nation's big manufacturing companies made less money in the July-September quarter than they did a year ago. But most earned more than in the April-June quarter. Many said they expected a further boost in profits in the fourth quarter and some predicted a continued rise for the first three months of 1959.

There was good news for retail merchants. Christmas Club Corporation said money socked away under its Christmas Club saving plan this year will set a new high.

Billion For Xmas

Some 7,900 banks will hand out $1,365,000,000 to Christmas Club depositors — three per cent more than in the 1957 payoff. It's calculated that the savers will spend 421 million dollars of this windfall on Christmas gifts and 75½ million on home furnishings and improvements.

What happens to the rest? Some will be used for buying stocks, some for travel, and some for paying bills. A lot will go back in the bank again to start new savings accounts. So say the people who run Christmas Club Corporation.

Here's the latest on the employment situation:

Employment Improved

Word filtered out of Washington this week that half a million more unemployed Americans found jobs in October. Government statisticians were reported working overtime on the report so the figures could be announced ahead of Tuesday's election deadline. President Eisenhower jumped the gun on official reports when he announced in a Baltimore speech Friday that unemployment dropped 300,000 in October.

Briefly over the business scene: General Motors, only one of the auto industry's Big Three to wind up the first nine months of 1958 in the black, reported its January-September earnings down 18 per cent from a year ago. Bethlehem steel tallied to earn its 60-cent dividend in the third quarter, but

World Briefs

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Francis Cardinal Spellman and James Francis L. Cardinal McIntyre of the United States were among five high churchmen received in separate audiences Saturday morning by Pope John XXIII.

GENOA, Italy (AP)—Two military planes, believed to have flown from the U. S. aircraft carrier Forrestal, crashed 40 miles apart Saturday in the fog-shrouded mountains near Genoa.

Three men aboard one plane died in the crash, said first reports reaching police. Three aboard the second plane were saved.

Sounds of the motors as the planes passed over villages in the mountainous country inland from the Italian Riviera coast indicated they were flying in formation.

The three airmen taken to a Chiavari Hospital were identified by police as James Richard Denison, 24, pilot; James R. Witte, 20, and Rex N. Sayles, 19.

Their home addresses were not available.

COPENHAGEN (AP)—Searing death rays of H-bomb energy may be a future answer to enemy long-range missiles, says Dr. E. Saenger, a German rocket expert.

"Direct the huge release of nuclear energy from a controlled H-bomb reaction in an aimed jet similar to the flame from a rocket exhaust and you have a lethal ray of devastating effect, which can submit any aerial device to such intense heat that it will be destroyed immediately," Saenger said in an interview.

"Such a high-energy beam of electromagnetic heat and light waves, releasing all the fury of the H-bomb, is, broadly speaking, a nuclear rocket turned into nuclear ray cannon."

Extra egg whites in the refrigerator? Make them up into small meringues from a standard recipe; fill them with thawed frozen berries and top with whipped cream for an easy and delightful dessert.
